

U.S. MAN IN ORBIT 'BEFORE END OF YEAR'

OSLO (AP) — State Secretary Dean Rusk told NATO foreign ministers today the United States intends to get a manned satellite into orbit before the end of the year. His remarks in a closed meeting were relayed later to reporters.

Rusk was quoted as saying the U.S. now is working "on very considerable projects" to reach the moon, Mars and Venus.

Berlin Threat To Grow Worse

NATO Warned Communist Menace
To Assume New Immediacy This Year

(Times News Services)

OSLO, Norway — Dirk U. Stikker, new secretary-general of NATO, warned the 15-nation Western alliance today that the Communist threat to Berlin may assume "new proportions and a new immediacy" this year.

Addressing the opening session of a three-day meeting of NATO foreign ministers, Stikker declared the Soviet threat "even reaches into outer space."

"What it may at times have lost in brutality, it has gained in subtlety and resourcefulness," he said.

The threat was not solely military. It was just as much political, economic, scientific, psychological and propagandist.

He warned of a possible new threat to Berlin this year and said NATO was "deeply concerned at the situation in the Congo, Laos and Cuba."

Stikker said NATO could meet the Communist challenge if its members made "those sacrifices, individual and collective, which in the past have been the price of greatness and which today are the price of peace."

Objective, 30 Combat Divisions

The agreed target for NATO is 30 combat-ready divisions deployed on the mainland of Europe. This has never been attained.

The alliance now is credited with having 20 divisions. But that figure has probably been reduced by transfer of French units to Algeria and Portuguese troops to rebellious Angola.

As the delegates to the conference assembled, Rusk and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville met at dinner with British Foreign Secretary Lord Home to coordinate policies they will pursue at the 14-nation conference on Laos scheduled to open in Geneva Friday.

The three ministers and External Affairs Minister Green of Canada will go from the Oslo meeting to Geneva.

State Secretary Dean Rusk of the United States promised his country would insist on maintaining the present legal status of Berlin and would guarantee the West's access and position there.

NEW CONGO CRISIS FEARED

Treason Charge For Tshombe

United Press International COQUILHATVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — The Central Congolese government's move to charge Katanga President Moïse Tshombe with high treason threatened today to touch off a wave of bloodletting and sabotage in the Southeast Congo.

Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko announced Sunday that Tshombe, a prisoner here for two weeks, would be tried on such charges as the assassination of former Premier Patrice Lumumba, counterfeiting, rebellion and theft of central government money and arms.

The move was expected to have an electric effect in Katanga where tension already was high between United Nations forces and Tshombe's 5,000-man army led by white officers.

Tshombe's right hand man, Katanga Interior Minister Godfroid Munungo, declared only

"I am happy to say that our most powerful ally, the United States, under the vigorous leadership of President Kennedy, has again and again affirmed its determination to give reinvigorated leadership to our alliance," he said.

The chairman of the opening session, Portuguese Foreign Minister Dr. Alberto Franco Noqueira, also stressed the need for Western vigilance against Russia.

State Secretary Dean Rusk of the United States was set to ask members to bolster the alliance through increased co-operation and more non-nuclear forces.

Stikker said Sunday night: "If more mobile and effective conventional forces are at the disposal of NATO, there will be less likelihood that nuclear weapons ever will have to be used."

signed a separate peace treaty with East Germany, as it has threatened several times, it would constitute a violation of existing agreements.

The secretary of state said he had little hope of any agreement being reached at the three-power conference in Geneva on banning nuclear tests because of Soviet obstruction and new demands. However, the United States would continue its efforts to reach agreement.

Rusk also asked the NATO members to bolster the alliance through increased co-operation and beefed-up non-nuclear forces.

Several hours before the NATO ministers convened, a group of Norwegians, Danish, West German and British opponents of nuclear weapons began a round-the-clock demonstration outside police headquarters well out of sight of the NATO meeting place.

The marchers carried placards reading "NATO must not become a nuclear power" and "No further spreading of nuclear weapons."

GOODIES IN BUDGET—LA MARSH

'Tories Plan to Buy' Byelection Victory

By FRANK RUTTER

The Conservative government was accused today of planning to "buy" the voters of Esquimalt-Saanich through announcements by visiting cabinet ministers and through "goodies" in the federal budget expected shortly before the by-election.

Liberal MP Judy La Marsh of Niagara Falls said here the federal budget is expected only a few days before the vote.

"When you realize the timing, they can throw almost anything in," she said.

"I have no doubt one of the cabinet ministers coming out here in the next week or so is going to attempt to buy this riding."

Miss La Marsh arrived today with Senator John Connolly, president of the National Liberal Federation.

SPEAKS TONIGHT
She speaks tonight for Liberal candidate David Groos at 8 in St. Andrew's Church Hall, Sidney.

This week the campaign has suddenly swung into high gear after the New Party rally of Saskatchewan Premier Tommy Douglas.

That the by-election here May 29 is regarded as a national issue is borne out by the "guest list" lined up for the next three weeks.

National Liberal leader Lester B. Pearson and top Liberals such as Paul Hellyer and Paul Martin are coming to speak for Mr. Groos.

Trade Minister George Hees, Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton and Veterans Affairs Minister Gordon Churchill are coming for the Tories. The word is that Mr. Churchill has "three announcements" of local importance to make, when he speaks on behalf of George Chatterton.

BENNETT READY
Premier Bennett is scheduled to join the campaign for Senator George Hahn May 19 with the first of two speeches, and all his cabinet ministers have been instructed to throw full support behind their candidate.

For Glen Hamilton of New Party, at least one more visitor is expected—the party's sole MP, Walter Pitman of Peterborough.

Sen. Connolly said the overriding issue of this by-election and the three others on the same date in Eastern Canada is the Tory government's record.

BIG CHANCE
"It's as key a by-election as a by-election can be," he said. For the Liberals it offers an opportunity to win its first seat west of the Great Lakes.

"I'd like to get at the government's soft under-belly from the west," he said.

Failure to act on unemployment, on easing international trade, and to avoid huge budget deficits at home were major issues, said the senator.

ISACHSEN, N.W.T. — The Arctic community of Isachsen (permanent population, nine men and one dog) sits on the west coast of Ellef Ringnes Island, 850 miles south of the North Pole, on a cove unofficially designated as Hole-in-the-Fog Bay.

It bears the name of Gunnar Isachsen, geographer with the Sverdrup Expedition of 1899-1904, who discovered and explored the island. And until 1959, Isachsen had one reason for existence; it was a Joint Arctic Weather Station.

The sun sets over Isachsen, on the average, Oct. 23 and isn't seen again until Feb. 15. There's a month of deep twilight after Oct. 23, and the darkness eases a bit in January. And by June each year, Isachsen is starting to warm up a bit, heading for peak temperatures of about 55 above in July.

Always Canadian

Its 4,800-foot-long airstrip was built by U.S. Army engineers. Canada and the U.S. split at cost and the personnel, but the ninth man, the officer in charge, is always a Canadian.

'Earlier Flight Was Possible'

(Times News Services)

WASHINGTON — America's first space traveller received a medal and the country's thanks from President Kennedy today.

Kennedy honored 37-year-old navy commander Alan Shepard in a White House ceremony.

The president remarked that with everybody looking on, America was risking much to gain from last Friday's space shot.

Shepard, his wife and the six men he beat out for the honor of being the first American in space, flew to the White House by helicopter from an air force base in Maryland. The astronaut came from Grand Bahama Island where Shepard had been under observation after his history-making feat.

Later, at a televised press conference, Shepard said his flight will encourage him and his associates to press on with the program of exploration.

"All in all, we were very much pleased with the flight, very much encouraged, and we intend to press ahead with the program."

He said the possibility of speeding up Friday's flight from Cape Canaveral "because of other events"—possibly a reference to the Soviet man in space accomplishment—was considered but not all the speed-up was adopted.

Agrees With Scheduling of Program

The flight could have been made "a lot earlier." But he added that the astronauts were in complete agreement with the way the program was scheduled. It was a "reliable" program.

Shepard said he was surprised that the liftoff for the flight was as smooth as it was.

"I had expected more noise and more vibration. ... It was a very pleasant liftoff."

He said he controlled the re-entry of the vehicle into the earth's atmosphere.

He said he had been pretty well briefed about what to expect in space but when he actually looked through the periscope, "I have to admit it took my breath away. It was a beautiful sight."

Shepard said the flight built up to 11 Gs—eleven times the force of gravity—before the pressure eased off on the downward trip.

He was asked whether he experienced exhilaration or apprehension at any point.

"Well, I must say there was some apprehension, yes. All the flyers went into this with our eyes open. But all realized that something could go wrong."

"The exhilaration I felt was when we landed."

Asked how much of the earth's surface he had seen, Shepard said part of his view was obscured by clouds coming from the northwest. He said the distance of vision, using the periscope and measuring from the capsule to the horizon, was 800 miles.

Q.—Did you encounter anything different from what you were led to expect during training?

A.—It was very, very close to what was predicted. ... I wasn't uncomfortable or embarrassed in any way.

He Cut Out His Own Appendix

MOSCOW (AP) — A young Soviet physician, marooned by a blizzard at the Novo-Lazarev research station in the Antarctic, removed his own appendix in surgery lasting almost two hours, Tass said today. He was reported recovering and able to walk again.

The Soviet news agency said Dr. Leonid Rogozov, 26, was struck by acute appendicitis April 30 and realized an operation was urgent. Using a mirror, he cut into his own abdomen that night, Tass said.

The dispatch made no mention of anaesthesia and said Rogozov performed the operation, "in spite of severe pain," with the help of a mechanic and a meteorologist.

The 12-man station is located on the Queen Astrid coast, several hundred miles from the main Soviet Antarctic base at Mirny. The weather prevented any attempt at flying Rogozov to Mirny.

Laos Cease-Fire 'Falling Apart'

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Members of the International Control Commission arrived today to verify the Laotian cease-fire which seemed in danger of falling apart under renewed Communist military attacks and demands made on the pro-Western government.

Truce talks between the two sides broke up for the fourth successive time without agreement at the front line truce village of Bin Heup.

A short time later, four American-made Harvard fighter planes, armed with rockets, took off from the Vientiane airport. Ground personnel at the airport told reporters the planes were flying to attack Communist positions at Vang Vieng, 65 miles north of here. There was no confirmation of this from other sources.

The first control commission contingent to arrive consisted of three Canadians, four Poles and 14 Indians. One group will operate from here, and another from Xieng Khouang, "capital" of the neutralist regime of Souvanna Phouma in Communist-held territory.

THIS WORLD OF OURS

People and Things

WASHINGTON — "I run this place to make money not to serve tramps!"

That was the forthright summary a woman innkeeper hurled at a bunch of drenched hikers Saturday — and her targets included Supreme Court Justice William Douglas and Senator Paul Douglas.

The hikers, about 170 strong, were nearing the end of a sudden, 16-mile conservationists' jaunt from Seneca, Md., to Washington — an annual affair — when they stopped at the Inn.

Justice Douglas and Mrs. Douglas were among the first arrivals and Senator Douglas led another group in a little later. Soon the inn was packed with dripping nature-lovers, many unwrapping lunches and ordering beverages.

Mrs. John T. Reges, wife of the proprietor, came down the stairs and expressed her general position. Then she levelled a finger at Senator Douglas and cried, "get off that rug! Get over there with the rest of the wet ones." The tall, grey-haired senator meekly complied.

When told whom she had been ordering around, Mrs. Reges pointed at the puddles on the floor and demanded: "Well, is he going to clean up the mess you make?"

The blunt-spoken hostess next confronted Interior Secretary Stewart Udall.

"You look like a bum. Get out!" she told him.

As soon as Udall realized the irate woman wasn't joking, he withdrew — and munched his lunch outside in the drizzle.

CORNER BROOK, Nfld. — "I had me a good time," Peter Patrick's voice boomed as he described how he drank six bottles of beer, lugged home a box of groceries, and took a half-hour car drive Saturday to celebrate his 112th birthday.

"I lived long because I'm just an old Frenchman," he said without explaining what he meant.

Mr. Patrick can't read or write. He spends his time listening to the radio and pencil-drawing "anything that comes to my mind."

DALLAS, Tex. — There's a white leghorn hen out in West Dallas that has turned into some kind of an Easter bunny or something.

She's laying blue eggs. Thirty-two of them in a row. And no other color.

"She hasn't been eating anything the other chickens haven't," says her owner, Mrs. Eugene Vance.

The eggs seem normal other than their color. Mrs. Vance got seven chicks out of a setting of nine recently.

"Everybody that sees 'em wants one," Mrs. Vance adds. "I've seen keeping chickens for 42 years, but this beats it."

LONDON — The London Philharmonic Orchestra has been inundated with applications for girls who want to "play" the typewriter for 25 seconds in a London performance of French composer Erik Satie's Parade.

The orchestra is to hold "auditions" for the typist at the festival hall this week.

Conductor John Pritchard says the successful candidate should be "a girl with fantastic-shaped glasses, streamlined and glossy, like a rather glamorous and typical American secretary."

those five minutes of weightlessness?

A. — Well, I realized during those five minutes that someone was going to ask me that question, (loud laughter), so I said to myself "You'd better figure out an answer." Seriously, during that short period it was quite a pleasant sensation, after the acceleration of the booster ride. I had difficulty in moving or controlling myself.

Q. — During the war, another pilot wrote a book called "God Is My Co-pilot." Do you feel the same way?

A. — I think all seven of us have religious faith in our own way. That's all I care to say about that.

Asked whether he would like to be selected to make America's first flight in orbit around the earth, Shepard replied, "All seven of us would."

Shepard disclosed that he took along his naval academy ring as the only personal belonging on his rocket ride. He did not explain whether he considered the ring a good luck charm.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency decided that the welcome for the spaceman should be limited to the gruelling day in Washington and there would be no ticker tape parade down New York's Broadway.

HASTINGS BANDA returns home

Aid Pledged To Nyasaland By Kennedy

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (AP) — Negro nationalist leader Dr. Hastings Banda said Sunday President Kennedy had assured him of American aid "as soon as Nyasaland becomes independent."

Banda told more than 12,000 screaming followers who met him at the airport upon his return from an American lecture tour that the United States "is more than ready and willing to give financial and technical aid."

He said Kennedy had impressed him with his understanding of Nyasaland.

Banda seeks to break up the federation of Northern and Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland with Nyasaland becoming independent. Federation Prime Minister Sir Roy Welensky says Russia will move in if that happens.

'RENOUNCE MYTHS' — DE GAULLE

PARIS (Reuters) — President de Gaulle today appealed to the French population of Algeria to renounce "outdated myths and absurd agitations."

In his first speech since the collapse of the army revolt in Algiers, he urged the French Algerians to turn their courage and capabilities toward the great task ahead.

He said in a nationwide television broadcast he was sure the "odious and stupid" incident would in no way delay France's forward march.

Two Terror Raids By Angola Rebels

LUANDA, Angola (Reuters) — Insurgents swooped on a farm near Carmona in Northern Angola Sunday, killing several pro-Portuguese workers and stealing cattle. It was reported today.

Another band set fire to a hangar at the airport of San Salvador, Northern Angola.

During the night an attack on the village of Cangola was repulsed after an amateur radio operator picked up a distress call and passed it on to military authorities in a nearby village, the Portuguese news agency Lusitania reported.

DAMAGE IN MILLIONS

29 Dead, 100 Hurt in U.S. Storm Toll

(By The Associated Press)

Violent storms and floods, a two-pronged disaster weapon, took a heavy toll in deaths and injuries during the weekend across broad sections of the central United States.

Property damage in the storm-battered sections of eight states was in the millions of dollars. Hundreds of persons were made temporarily homeless.

The flash floods and severe weather, including tornadoes, gusty winds, heavy rain and hail, were blamed for at least 29 deaths. Nearly 100 persons were injured.

The American Red Cross in St. Louis said arrangements were made to provide food, clothing, medical care and emergency shelter for an estimated 1,000 families in north central Arkansas, southeast Missouri, northeast Oklahoma, southern Illinois and Kansas.

Severe thunderstorms continued during the morning in many areas from Oklahoma and Kansas northeastward through the middle and upper Mississippi Valley into the Great Lakes region.

Tornadoes struck six communities in Arkansas Sunday, killing four persons. Three others drowned in swollen streams in the state.

The twisters in Arkansas hit Midway, Whiteville, Clarkridge, Pindall, Summitt and Oil Trough. Persons were killed at Summitt, near Yellville, and one person in Midway. About 40 homes were destroyed in a 20-mile area between Pindall and Yellville. Nineteen persons were hurt.

National guardsmen were sent into Harrison, a community of 6,500, after Governor Orval E. Faubus declared martial law.

Crooked Creek overflowed and sent a wall of water 14 feet high through the streets of the northeast Arkansas town. Two men drowned and an elderly couple was missing in Harrison.

Tornadoes also pounded South Fork, Mo., about 60 miles northeast of the severe storm area in Arkansas, injuring eight persons. Eighteen persons were hurt in a tornado which hit Wyandotte country, adjoining Kansas City. Tornado winds lashed areas near Stamford, in west central Texas, northern Oklahoma and in Madisonville, Ky.

The death toll in the tornado which swept Howe and Reichart, Okla., Friday, mounted to

'WHAT HAPPENED?'

Tornado Hurls Car 300 Feet Into Ditch

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "Where are we? What happened? Where's our car? There's supposed to be another girl with us."

Dazed, disheveled, two girls from Leavenworth, Kan., anxiously queried two men who found them stumbling along railroad tracks Sunday afternoon in the wake of a tornado.

At least 12 persons were injured by the twister and companion funnels in a 95-mile path from Basehor, Kan., to Carrollton, Mo.

Danielle Gilstead, 17, Pat Wilkins, 16, and Mary Ann Day, 16, had started driving back to Leavenworth, Kan., from Wyandotte County Lake when a storm approached.

"All of a sudden it got bad and I put on the brakes but the car didn't stop," Miss Gilstead said. "It just kept on going."

The girls couldn't remember what happened after that, but a state trooper, Robert Cooper, figured it this way:

The tornado hurled the car over a railroad, over a grove of trees 50 feet high, and dumped it upside down in a drainage ditch 300 feet from the highway.

"The girls couldn't recall whether they had jumped from the car or had been thrown from it," said Robert H. Gebhart, one of the rescuers.

The men took the girls to a house and went back to look for Miss Day. They found her 150 feet from the car, face down and moaning. She had severe facial lacerations.

Everybody Likes New Farm Legislation

(From Times News Service)

OTTAWA — The Commons wrangled for nearly two hours at its first Saturday sitting of the session about what it should discuss and then Progressive Conservative speakers occupied virtually all the remaining time heaping praise on government farm legislation supported by all three parties.

The measure is the rural rehabilitation and legislation bill whose broad provisions for rural assistance—through federal-provincial agreements of different types—have been well aired in intermittent debate during the last few months.

The agreements would provide for a rechanneling of the use of marginal farm lands through recreation, tourism or other secondary industries. Research, conservation and local projects using self-help programs would be established.

Nobody—the 14 Conservative speakers, two CCF MPs and one Liberal member—criticized the bill itself.

'Miniature Conservative Filibuster'

One of the few notes of controversy was CCF Leader Argue's description of the debate as "this miniature Conservative filibuster."

The procedural battle, occupying 1½ hours, sprang from an admitted oversight by the government's House leader, Veterans Minister Churchill.

The upshot was that Speaker Roland Michener finally ruled, on the basis of United Kingdom precedents, that government business should be discussed. The government called the farm bill, sponsored by Agriculture Minister—Alvin Hamilton, after passing over two other items.

At day's end, it appeared that second reading—approval in principle—was near.

Some good agricultural land is being swallowed up in British Columbia's rich Okanagan Valley by tourism and river erosion, said David Pugh (PC—Okanagan-Boundary).

He suggested government assistance might be beneficial in curbing erosion along the Similkameen and Kettle Rivers of the B.C. Interior as well as for the costly irrigation that would improve soil fertility.

Farm Equipment Combine Denied

The Canadian Federation of Farm Equipment Dealers said today it is "most doubtful" that a price combine exists within the farm equipment industry.

A federation brief to the Commons standing committee on agriculture, which is studying farm equipment prices, said the dealers have seen no indication of price-rigging by the major companies.

Those 7,000-word brief presented a picture of dealers caught between the rigid sales demands of the manufacturers and the horse-trading of farmers unwilling to pay list prices. It said dealers use a normal markup of 20 per cent on new equipment but their actual profit is trimmed to three per cent by price discounts and selling costs.

"It cannot be stressed too strongly that the farm equipment dealer seldom, if ever, realizes anything near the suggested list price of his machine," the brief states.

Too often there are too many dealers in a given area, it adds. This leads to "price war" competitions which further trim profits.

Okanagan Site College Studied

(Compiled from CP)
VERNON — A committee set up at the weekend by a higher education conference will investigate the need for a junior college and vocational training centre in the Okanagan-Mainline area.

Conference chairman Dr. E. M. Stevenson said he hopes the committee will start work immediately.

If the committee decides either the facilities is needed, it will recommend a site, he said. This will prevent cities bidding against each other.

Dean S. N. F. Chant told the conference he doubted if a junior college would provide the "broad intellectual and cultural development" expected from an institution of higher learning.

Dean H. Goard, assistant director of adult education in Vancouver, said he favored a school combining senior matriculation, technical training and adult education.

THEFT AT FAIR

VERNON — City police today sought two men who walked off with a $170 sewing machine from a stand at the British Columbia International Trade Fair.

Mrs. Yvonne Nash, 25, a representative of the Italian firm of Necchi, which owned the machine, said she was in an office adjacent to the stand where the machine was on display but couldn't see the stand.

She said a woman told her later that two men walked into the exhibit building, one stood near the side door and the other walked up in full public view and took the machine. The woman had thought the men were company workmen.

HOME LOOTED

VANCOUVER — A burglar drilled his way into a residence here at the weekend and made off with furs, liquor and other items worth about $3,800.

The take from the home of H. G. McRae Sunday, included a $1,000 Persian lamb coat, Dresden figures and liquor.

Entry was gained after a hole was drilled in a recreation room window.

'Loyalist' Speaks Tonight

The "United Empire Loyalist" candidate in the Esquimalt-Saanich byelection will hold his first campaign meeting tonight.

Norman Baker of New Westminster, said today he has moved to Victoria for the duration of the campaign.

He announced last winter he would be a candidate but then left for a trip to eastern Canada.

"I'll definitely be in," he said.

He will speak on the Columbia River power project at St. Luke's Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Baker said he is convinced the international treaty for Columbia development will fail.

He said other issues he intends to raise in the campaign are unemployment and forest policies.

Big Guns Roll Into Position

Four Progressive Conservative cabinet ministers and four Liberal MPs, including Liberal leader Lester Pearson, are coming to Victoria to take part in campaigning for the Esquimalt-Saanich byelection May 29.

Speaking for Conservative candidate Reeve George Chatterton will be Veterans' Affairs Minister Gordon Churchill, Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton, Trade and Commerce Minister George Hees and External Affairs Minister Howard Green.

Campaigners for Liberal candidate David Groos will be Liberal Leader Lester Pearson; Judy La Marsh, MP for Niagara Falls; Paul Hellyer, MP, Toronto-Trinity; and Paul Martin, MP, Essex East.

Conservative appearances are:

May 16: Agriculture Minister Hamilton at Deer Lodge, Mill Bay, 8 p.m.

May 17: Trade and Commerce Minister Hees at Jaycee Fair exhibitors luncheon, 12:15 noon, and at public meeting at Colwood Community Hall, Sidney, 8 p.m.

May 23: External Affairs Minister Green at public meeting to be arranged.

Veterans' Affairs Minister Churchill will also tour the Veterans' Hospital, Richmond Road, Wednesday afternoon.

Liberal campaign meetings: Tonight: Miss Judy La Marsh at St. Andrew's Church Hall, Sidney, 8 p.m.

Wednesday: Mr. Hellyer at Colwood Community Hall, 8 p.m.

May 15: Mr. Martin at Tillikum School, Saanich, 8 p.m.

Gary Cooper Turns 60; City Dentist Named New Honor Bestowed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Gary Cooper, critically ill with cancer, became 60 years old Sunday.

Scores of birthday messages were among the heavy mail coming to the actor since his illness became public.

In Cannes, France he was awarded the Croix of Officer of the French Order of Arts and Letters at a ceremony in the film festival hall.

Victoria dentist Dr. Thomas Dohan was named president-elect of the British Columbia Dental Association at the group's annual convention in Kelowna on Friday. He will take office as president next year.

President for 1961 is Dr. J. C. Lewis, of Vancouver.

The Senate's Duty

THE LIBERAL SENATORS have the right and the duty to reject some clauses in the government's new tariff legislation if they consider them contrary to the Canadian constitutional system.

The Senate approves virtually all legislation coming from the House of Commons, even though it may have some doubts about various government policies. But when a great issue of principle arises, when the constitutional process itself is in dispute, the Senate must take a stand if it is to justify its existence. Such an issue has now arisen.

The purpose of the government's legislation is to increase the tariff protection of Canadian industry over a wide field. That fact is not denied by the government. On the contrary, it says that it is repairing what it calls the "erosion" of protection granted many years by the "Made-in-Canada Formula."

Under this formula goods of a "class or kind" made in Canada enjoy a much higher tariff than that charged on goods not made in Canada.

That is a perfectly sensible arrangement. It would be ridiculous to charge high duties on goods that Canada is not making and has no intention of making. But the government, in its present legislation, goes far beyond this historic policy.

In the first place, it proposes to apply the higher rates of tariff to goods not actually made in Canada at present, provided the government thinks they could be made here.

It is not the protectionism of the government's policy, however, that mainly disturbs the Liberal senators. Probably they would not care to interfere with the government's trade policy, unwise as they may consider it, but they rightly object to the destruction of Parliament's control over much of the tariff.

Under this legislation Parliament no longer would fix the tariff, which is only a form of taxation. Instead, the minister of national revenue would decide whether certain goods were made or could be made in Canada and adjust the tariff on them as he saw fit.

In other words, he would make the tariff and levy the tax. The oldest and most vital power for Parliament would be abrogated. Still better display, and would invite a much larger volume of tourists and other visitors because of its convenient site overlooking the harbor.

It has been suggested that HMCS Malahat could obtain larger quarters in the Yates Street building recently vacated by the RCAF. Commodore Harold Groos, in presenting these points to a local audience last week, also urged civilian support for the museum. This is an enterprise in which all residents can take pride for it helps to preserve many historic objects from the early days of this community. With substantial public support, those in charge will be able to achieve improved exhibits and premises, and make the maritime museum what it should be—one of the most valuable and instructive local attractions.

With more spacious accommodation the collection could be given worse, there would be no appeal from the minister's decisions, as there has been in the past, to determine the facts. He alone can arbitrarily decide that goods are made or could be made in Canada and must bear the highest custom duties.

Indeed, he does not have to make public his decisions. He can privately decide to enforce high duties on one consignment of imported goods and lower duties on another consignment without giving any reason for his decision.

This is so great a breach of our parliamentary principles, so subversive of our whole constitutional system that many senators find it intolerable.

To be sure, they must accept a grave responsibility in rejecting an important piece of legislation approved by the elected Conservative majority of the House of Commons, but they would be irresponsible if they approved it automatically.

The purpose of the Senate, said Sir John A. Macdonald, the great Conservative architect of our constitution, was to provide a chamber of "sober second thoughts." Certainly second thoughts are needed in the case of the tariff legislation.

In practical affairs it is quite true that the Senate cannot and should not permanently frustrate the will of the elected Commons but by refusing to approve some clauses in the present bill the Senate could force the Commons to re-consider them.

On second thoughts, now that the constitutional issue has been clarified, at least some Conservative members of the Commons will be inclined to change the legislation insofar as it breaches the basic rights of Parliament.

Perhaps the government itself will see that however much it may wish to raise the tariff it cannot properly make tariff law as it pleases and levy taxes without Parliament's approval.

If the government would agree that the decisions of the minister of national revenue can be appealed to the Tariff Board, on questions of fact, the constitutional dispute with the Senate probably could be settled amicably. Then the government could proceed with its protectionist policy (at the cost of the Canadian consumers) by proper constitutional methods.

Museums Are To Be Seen

THERE ARE ARGUMENTS IN favor of retaining the maritime museum in its present quarters in Esquimalt, where it has a close association with the navy establishment. But since the museum comprises a collection which should be viewed by the public, and indeed, depends for its revenue on a heavy stream of visitors, the arguments in favor of moving it to accessible premises in town appear to be unanswerable.

This is especially so when the proposed new quarters, in the original Victoria customs building on Wharf Street, now occupied by HMCS Malahat, have historic connections with the community and provide an appropriate waterside location.

With more spacious accommodation the collection could be given better display, and would invite a much larger volume of tourists and other visitors because of its convenient site overlooking the harbor.

It has been suggested that HMCS Malahat could obtain larger quarters in the Yates Street building recently vacated by the RCAF.

Commodore Harold Groos, in presenting these points to a local audience last week, also urged civilian support for the museum. This is an enterprise in which all residents can take pride for it helps to preserve many historic objects from the early days of this community. With substantial public support, those in charge will be able to achieve improved exhibits and premises, and make the maritime museum what it should be—one of the most valuable and instructive local attractions.

Still Room to Criticize

WHEN DR. HUGH KEENEYSIDE tells Canadians not to be sanctimonious in their criticism of South Africa and apartheid, he seems to be paraphrasing the biblical injunction against all but those without sin throwing stones.

The injunction is as good today as when it was first delivered. Dr. Keeneyside, moreover, is justified in saying that Canadians are not without sins of discrimination. He is correct, also, in stating that Canadians have never been confronted by the problem faced by white South Africans.

Moving Toward Decimals

LIKE CALENDAR REFORM, adoption by Canada of the metric system is an old discussion subject. We've talked about it for decades and done little more than talk.

Mr. George Hees, minister of trade, says the present government is not anxious for any sudden change. "If precipitate action were taken, our losses in our major markets, the United Kingdom and the United States, would create far greater hardships," he says, than losses suffered in specific orders from countries using the unit-of-10 measure.

Mr. Hees doubtless has statistics on his side. But ultimate logic surely suggests that units of measurement eventually will be made uniform throughout the world. That, at least, is the argument used by those who favor the decimal system.

The protagonists seem to be growing in strength. An active group in Britain is seeking use of the system in currency, to replace pounds, shillings and pence. A similar move is afoot in Australia.

At some time in the future, measurement in its multitude of forms may be reduced to a simplicity understandable to everyone with all digits on both hands.

The Race to Space May Take Second Place

Tobin

NOW that one man has circled the earth in orbit and another has journeyed briefly into space in an "up and down" trip, the general impression is that efforts will be directed even more eagerly to the problem of travelling farther and farther away from the earth. Will there be a race to the moon? Will the results of such a trip, apart from national prestige and the sheer excitement of it all, justify the effort in the fairly near future?

A good many United States scientists, apparently, say no to the last question. Even on military grounds a station on the moon would be highly over-rated.

The president of the California Institute of Technology, Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, says the claims that the first nation to set up a military post on the moon could dominate the earth are nonsense.

"Why transport a hydrogen warhead 240,000 miles to the moon," he asks, "just to shoot it back 240,000 miles to earth when the target is only 5,000 miles away?"

He adds that an intercontinental ballistic missile can reach any part of the earth within 20 minutes.

A program to put a man on the moon is estimated to cost between 20 and 40 millions of dollars. Scientists balance against such a feat the good that could be derived from a similar sum spent on some of the more pressing types of research in biology, medicine, chemistry and other studies that would yield more immediate returns to mankind.

But it seems to the layman that there are two strong forces working in favor of a high-pressure onslaught to master moon-travel. One is the inherent urge in man to explore and adventure to the limit of his ability and endurance—the same urge that has brought us out of the trees and the caves and down through the centuries into our electronic-nuclear space age. The other is the incentive of rivalry which is so much a part of international relations now.

While East and West are trying to avoid the supreme and probably fatal rivalry of warfare, they are working off their antagonisms in other forms of competition—industrial output, international prestige and power, cultural attainment and scientific achievement.

The space race is real, even though we may deny it. And the winner of any phase of it will reap rewards and kudos, even though he may ruin himself economically in the process.

The question is, can a nation such as the United States afford to turn its back on the race even though it knows that the money involved could be better used?

The question carries added point, of course, when it is remembered that the other countries of the world will be watching—particularly those countries that are trying to decide whether the capitalist or communist system will more rapidly enable them to gain the full fruits of the twentieth century.

Another side of the problem is the fact that most of our scientific knowledge of space is being gained in much less spectacular ways than by launching human beings into the blue—or more correctly, black.

The United States program of putting a fabulous variety of instruments into orbit instead of giving space travel top priority has resulted in a growing mass of important information which is believed to exceed that of the Russians.

There are uncounted problems of space yet to be solved—the mysteries of cosmic rays, of gamma rays, of the origin of matter, of the many phenomena connected with our sun and our galaxy.

Solution of many of these does not necessarily require the presence of a man on the scene. Through the wizardry of modern instruments and electronic transmission the information can be gathered and transmitted from vast distances.

Space travel to the moon or even beyond, then, may be merely the formal gesture of man capping his conquest of space, a sort of personal check on all that he has already learned by remote control.

There Are Risks in the Chinese Grain Deal

THE China wheat agreement, announced in Parliament by Mr. Alvin Hamilton on Tuesday, is the subject of a fascinated study here. No one has yet made it a political issue and Mr. Herridge for the CCF has given it enthusiastic approval. Mr. Pearson's preliminary remarks were noncommittal, calling attention to the elements of risk in this long-term agreement but reserving judgment on its overall merits.

If the arrangement covered sales for cash, it is improbable that questions of any sort would be raised. Mr. Hamilton's earlier announcement on Feb. 2 of the sale of approximately 40 million bushels of wheat and barley to the Chinese was welcomed by all parties.

The government has now, however, approved very large sales (approximately 233 million bushels of wheat and barley from June 1, 1961, to December 1963) on credit. While this is not the first such agreement with a Communist government, it is the first to be entered into with a government which we do not recognize.

So far as the actual agreement is concerned, there are apparently two elements of risk. The first (and minor) one is that we accept payment in sterling, which the Chinese earn by sales of rice. It is true, of course, that this sterling is convertible.

There is no question here of accepting unconvertible currencies as would have been the case a few years ago. But in our dealings with other countries we do insist on payment in dollars so that the customer, rather than the supplier, accepts whatever exchange risks may be involved.

The larger risk, obviously, is in trading on credit with the Chinese Communist. It may be observed that Mr. Hamilton's agreement occupies a middle position as between the Polish deal of 1957 and the more recent one with Russia.

Invasion

For centuries earth's emperors have spent their might in conquest, siege, and bloody wars. But none fore-told that science would invent. Fierce, violent vessels, hurtling to the stars.

Metallic messengers of future days. Are these demonic spawn of some dread scheme? Atomic rockets travel the vast ways of universe, an astronomic dream.

That man would conquer man has been the same. In ravaged ages, on the earth confined. Now science has a deadlier, stranger aim. That proves the power of the human mind.

Inferno's force shoots from terrestrial base. Man's war-heads far, in God's celestial space.

—Marion Fancourt Cooper.

Mr. Howe, finding his Polish customers in difficulty, permitted them three year credits; the original cash payment having been 15 per cent. Again, in the case of Czechoslovakia, the arrangement stipulated three yearly payments of 30 per cent, cash at date of shipment being 10 per cent. On the other hand the credit extended to Russia was merely for 180 days.

There was evidently some hard bargaining on this subject. The Chinese, no doubt, hoped for something like the Polish terms. In fact the deal is for 25 per cent down, the balance in nine months.

It is beyond the authority of the Canadian Wheat Board to grant credit on this scale. This is the reason why Mr. Hamilton, representing the government, went to Hong Kong. In effect, the government is providing a $50 million revolving loan to cover a succession of individual contracts which will be spaced over the three-year period. If the Chinese should fail to honor their commitments when the first payments come due, the board presumably would suspend shipments.

Basic Question

Is Communist China a good risk in the commercial sense? This obviously, is the basic question.

The Canadian government has been impressed with the recent experience of other traders who have found the China Resources Company meticulous in meeting its commitments. China may now, of course, have good political reasons for seeking to build such a reputation.

On the other hand, no one least of all Mr. Howard Green—regards Communist China as a trustworthy country in political and diplomatic dealings. What happens when diplomacy imposes a veto on commerce?

This is not an academic question.

Until mid-1958 there was a considerable Sino-Japanese trade although Japan did not recognize the Peking regime. Suddenly there was a diplomatic incident. The Chinese Communists demanded the right to fly their flag over their trade building in Tokyo. The Nationalist Chinese objected.

While negotiations were proceeding, the Communists abruptly seized 15 Japanese vessels and cut off all trade with the Japanese islands. Japan found herself overnight in very serious commercial difficulties.

More Wheat

Why should the Chinese be interested in buying wheat with the proceeds of rice sales? They are generally regarded as rice-eaters but this apparently is only partially true. In fact they grow three times as much wheat as we do.

According to Mr. Hamilton, they claim to produce about 1.5 billion bushels a year although outsiders believe that 1.3 billion would be closer to the mark. Their problem is to feed a population of about 600,000,000 (here again figures vary widely) some of whom are accustomed to a rice diet, some to wheat.

No information is available as to the rate of interest which the Chinese will pay on their borrowings, other than Mr. Hamilton's general assurance that the public interest is protected.

While the agreement stipulates total amounts—for example, 6 million tons of barley, wheat and flour—Mr. Hamilton explained that each successive contract would have to be negotiated "in respect to price and quantity."

From the Canadian standpoint, this avoids the sort of risk that was inherent in the long-term Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement. From the Chinese standpoint, it provides for flexibility in the timing of orders.

WASHINGTON:

Problems Compounded

By WALTER LIPPMANN

PRESIDENT KENNEDY is in grave trouble. If, after the appalling mistake of judgment in the Cuban venture, he allows himself to be sucked into the quicksands of Laos, he will have compromised perhaps irrevocably, his influence on events. For the more he engages himself directly while the Soviet Union and China keep a free hand, the more he will weaken his influence.

The disaster in Cuba has opened the way to Chinese diplomatic intervention in the Laotian entanglement in Laos would not only open the way to Chinese military intervention but would greatly aggravate the pressure on Iran, on Quemoy and Matsu, and on our other exposed and vulnerable outposts, including probably West Berlin.

The United States would have committed the cardinal strategic error of dispersing its forces at places where there can be no decision while its adversary kept his forces concentrated and intact.

Though it is late, it is, let us hope, not too late to find our way back to the highway from which we have strayed.

To do this there will have to be a certain inquiry, which only the President can conduct, followed by a frank and convincing explanation of how so colossal a mistake was made.

The question is how the President decided to approve this venture which was, as the event has shown, so greatly misconceived.

No Uprising

As I understand it, and contrary to the general impression, there was no serious expectation that the landing of the exiles would be followed immediately by a political uprising against Castro. The object of the landing was to establish a beachhead for a civil war against Castro, and no plans seemed to have been made, no thought seems to have been given, to what we would do then, what the rest of Latin America would do then, what the Soviet Union would do, while the civil war was being fought.

Bad as have been the consequences of the failure, they are probably less bad than would have been the indecisive partial success which was the best that could conceivably have been achieved. In order to support the rebellion in Cuba we would have had to continue to violate not only our treaties with the other American states but also our own laws which prohibit the preparation of foreign military expeditions in the United States.

My own inquiries as to how the misjudgment was made lead me to believe that the President was not protected by the New Hands—Bundy, Rostow, Schlesinger, and Rusk—against the bad advice of the Old Hands, Bissell and Dulles of the CIA, Lemnitz and Burke of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Berle of the State Department.

Modified Plans

There is no doubt that the plans had been drawn up and the preparations made during the preceding Administration. There is no doubt that the President insisted upon modifying these plans to avoid, as he thought and hoped, any appearance of direct involvement of the United States Armed Forces.

Though much has been said that this proviso ruined the plan, there is no doubt also that the Chiefs of Staff and the CIA advised the President to proceed nevertheless.

I believe an inquiry will show that the Secretary of State, although he had his misgivings, approved the plan. Contrary to much that has been said, I believe it to be true that Stevenson and Bowles were excluded from the deliberations which preceded the fatal decision.

Furthermore, the record will show, I believe, that the one man who participated in the deliberations and pleaded with the President not to approve the plan was Sen. Fulbright. He foresaw what would happen, he warned the President that the right policy was not to attempt to oust Castro but to contain him while we worked constructively in Latin America. Sen. Fulbright was the only wise man in the lot.

When there is a disaster of this kind—as for example, the British disaster at Suez—the mistake can be purged and confidence can be restored only by the resignation of the key figures who had the primary responsibility and by candid talk which offers the promise that the mistake will not be repeated.

Full Blame

In the immediate wake of the disaster the President took the position that he would accept all the blame and that nobody else was to be held responsible. This was generous, it was brave, and in the sense that the Chief Executive must stand by those under him, it was right. But it is not the whole story.

Under our system of government, unlike the British system, the Chief Executive who makes a great mistake does not and cannot resign. Therefore, if there is to be accountability in our government, the President must hold responsible those whose constitutional or statutory duty it is to advise him.

All this is a painful business, even for a hardened newspaper writer. But the stakes are very high and the national interest is that the truth be found and that justice be done. For there is at stake the confidence of our own people and of our friends throughout the world.

Huge Market Expansion Needed to Offset Russia

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker assailed his Liberal party critics Saturday as lacking faith in Canada.

He spoke at the annual meeting of the Western Ontario Progressive Conservative Association, taking the line that Canada pull herself out of economic difficulties by expanding foreign markets and creating new industries at home.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the Liberal party has been deriding and disparaging the strength and future of Canada at a time when Russia is moving ahead with a strong economic offensive.

"Oppositions have their place, but I intend to tell the people of Canada what it is when an opposition, for political partisanship, opposes, condemns, ridicules, and then ends up so often voting with us." He referred to the Liberal opposition to Customs Act amendments now before the Senate, declaring that "here we are with jobs at stake" and shippers abroad about to avoid high tariffs in Canada through loopholes.

"The Liberals were shocked," he said. "This is not a matter of protectionism, but the preservation of the competitive equality of Canadians."

TERRIBLE RENDEZVOUS
Russia's economic potential poses "a terrible rendezvous with destiny all over the world," he added. Russia is moving forward with alternate threats and smiles, and Western nations like Canada have to meet the economic offensive with extraordinary measures. Canada's new trade agreement in wheat and barley with Communist China is the greatest step forward for western farmers and the economy as a whole, but admittedly is not normal.

"There will be a lot more that's not normal in the eyes of our opponents, or not normal in the standards of yesterday, and we will sell to China, Cuba, or any other Communist nation—but nothing of a strategic nature."

Do Infants Understand?

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayor-Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation. Psychoanalysts keep telling us that our mental troubles are due to painful sexual impressions we received before we were born, or while we were being born, or in the first year or two of life.

As I have pointed out before, many physicians cannot believe this because they cannot believe that the unfinished and only partially-developed brain of an infant could notice or understand or be distressed at such a thing as seeing his parents naked.

Alvarez

Just now, I was reading how a certain Miss Hillyer, while recovering from a spell of insanity, said that for a time in the hospital "she was like an infant who has to learn what sounds and other sensations mean."

The sounds that she heard meant little besides noise. "I was unable to translate them into the milkman's cart, the doctor's machine, or the ice cream freezer; they were just so many vibrations hitting my eardrum."

Doubtless the infant has slowly to learn what all the many noises about the house mean: the telephone, the front door bell, the vacuum cleaner, or the slammed door.

A rather common disease is called constitutional inadequacy. We all know the sort of man who is a prize fighter, or a wrestler, or a professional football player. He is a big, large-boned fellow, made up largely of muscle.

Often he doesn't know what "nerves" are; he can eat and digest anything; he is tireless; he is never ill; and when he goes to bed, he falls sound asleep.

At the other end of the scale is a thin, frail-looking, small-boned, often tired, nervous, and often sickly woman. Sometimes we doctors say she has the habit of illness, or we suspect she loves being operated on.

The poor woman is so frantic to get well and strong she'll accept any operation that the surgeon says might cure her. But usually, no operation cures.

What she needs is not the taking out of several of her organs—what she needs is the putting in of better ones that could stand up to strain and hard work.

Often, when I tell a young woman that her trouble is that she is hereditarily and constitutionally frail, she says, "No; I was fine until I had my first baby," or "My first teaching job." And my answer is "Of course, you were all right at first. You were like a poorly-built automobile tire that could go 1,500 miles, but that was all."

What does a woman do when she is constitutionally frail? The main thing is to hoard her energies and not to blow them foolishly.

She must try to get much sleep and rest, and she must learn to live without friction with others about her. There must be very little fretting and fussing and scolding.

Any woman who has had a series of miscarriages ought to be well studied by her obstetrician to see if any cause can be found for the trouble, and if anything can be done to relieve it. Sometimes, with the new drugs, which have recently been made, a tendency to a miscarriage can be stopped.

After 50 years of listening to the stories of men and women who have abdominal discomforts, when all tests fail to show any sign of serious disease, every so often I have to say, perhaps to a highly sensitive, tired, troubled and overworked little widow who is trying to support two children, "I am afraid you will have to do some detective work at home. You'll have to keep a record of what unusual thing happens just before the stomachache comes."

As a pretty little widow said recently, "It could be due sometimes to my anxiety, as when there is little money in the house and a child falls ill; or it could be due to my losing my temper; or it could be due to my eating some chocolate candy; or it could be due to a cold; or to some constipation that I get occasionally; or it could be due to working until 1 a.m. to get the washing and mending done."

Women write wanting to know if they can have a baby painlessly with the help of hypnosis. I doubt it.

What I have read and been told is that hypnosis can help a young woman to face the ordeal with less concern and fear; also it can lessen by a half the amount of anesthesia she might otherwise need.

Thorny Colonialism Issue Splits NATO Conference

By DAVE MCINTOSH

OSLO (CP) — An abrasive issue among the 15 NATO nations is colonialism.

The issue is expected to be rubbed more raw at the alliance's foreign ministers' meeting starting here.

Five NATO nations—Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Portugal—are colonial powers and, on this issue, can be expected to receive the support of Italy, Greece and Turkey. Thus the alliance is almost evenly split on the matter.

The issue boils down to this: How can an alliance purporting to be the bulwark of the free world permit colonialism within its ranks?

The issue in Canadian terms can be put this way: Is there to be one standard for South Africa and another, say, for Portugal?

South Africa withdrew from the Commonwealth because the group wouldn't tolerate one member's racial policies.

Canada therefore can hardly be expected to remain silent on denial of freedom to other Africans, such as in Portuguese Angola.

CANADA NOT QUIET

And Canada hasn't remained silent. It had a good deal to say at the December NATO meeting on this issue and probably will have more to say here.

Canada would favor a NATO statement, even a vague one, that NATO colonial powers intend to do something about eventual independence for their colonies.

Otherwise, it is felt, it will be difficult for NATO to continue preaching unity and interdependence and hold itself up to the Africans and Asians as an example of the free world.

The anti-colonialists in NATO, however, cannot afford to be overly tart in their comments on this issue even within the privacy of the meeting here.

As an example, they don't want to make France feel it is without support in its efforts to open negotiations with the Algerian rebels.

Canada in some ways is caught between its desire to speak out strongly on the co-

All Gardeners Should Experiment

This year we are growing some annuals which we have not seen in flower yet, and though they are not new or rare, we are waiting for the blossoms with considerable interest.

White bushy lobelia for an edging has the name of White Lady. The plants are a healthy bright green, every bit as sturdy as the tried and true Crystal Palace blue, but a distinct contrast already in foliage color.

Another newcomer to our garden is the white form of salvia-Blaze of Fire. It rejoices in the name of White Fire. In this case also the white form has strong healthy foliage, and if the flowers are produced, as freely as with the red, the effect should be interesting.

It is not that we believe white can be used abundantly or indiscriminately in the garden, but a few groups of white at intervals are cooling on a hot summer day, and at night serve to point up a border of red or blue. These two colors disappear as night falls, losing their individuality and becoming black.

Also being awaited with interest are the Yellow Duchess asters (annual) and the needle-type asters, which have been listed for some years under the name of the King-type. From the many colors offered, we chose white and pink, since they will go well together in fall bouquets.

This is one of the aspects of gardening wherein we actually practice what we preach—that every gardener should grow something each year which he has never yet seen!

COWICHAN LEADER

Those planning the proposed district hospital received much satisfaction from the ready acceptance of their work and the keen interest of a representative public meeting Tuesday evening in the fire hall assembly room.

The near-tragedy at Che-mainus Hospital last week when fire burned part of the roof, has struck home. A fire-proof building is essential for a hospital. It is provided for in the proposed building.

The planners of the proposed Cowichan Valley Hospital would appear to have done their work well. It remains now to convince the public that the best possible plans have been prepared at the most reasonable possible cost.

This new hospital, with plans ultimately for 182 beds, will be the single largest community enterprise in our history. The four areas of the district have the opportunity now to make history for never before have four separate legal entities joined forces to build a new hospital in B.C.

COMOX DISTRICT FREE PRESS — Mayor W. C. Moore, who has been the driving force, and others who have worked hard in many ways, are to be congratulated in having the Lions brought to Courtenay for training.

The money which will be dropped into local pockets from the purses of visitors will be welcome. The value of the publicity the district will get is almost beyond estimation. But what is most important is the fact that, if the district plays its cards properly and makes visitors welcome, then those who come over simply to see the Lions train and play, will return in the future to the district.

Mayor Moore and his associates are to be congratulated on a fine job of work.

Eyesores

WEST COAST ADVOCATE

—There is a growing tendency all along the Island Highway, from this west coast city to Victoria, and even northward on the east coast highway to see more and more auto wrecking or junk yards taking front position as scenery.

These are natural business concerns, but why has not some regulation been put into force to take these eyesores back off the highway?

Growing as fast as they are today, these wrecking yards are a disgrace and an eyesore to travellers along our former scenic highways. Before the epidemic spreads even further some action should be taken by the provincial government to issue permits only to those "yards" erected at a proper distance back from the highway where they will not be a perpetual nuisance.

BUCKS RULE ROOST

Laycoe Rates A Big Assist

SEATTLE (CP) — Portland Buckaroos started the Western Hockey League season without a home, little hope of getting too far in their first season of professional hockey and a group of players disdainfully described as too small, too old or too slow.

Saturday night they shut out the powerful Seattle Totems 4-0 before 4,714 fans to capture the league's first all-American final in six games and set the experts to wondering just what happened.

Much of the credit goes to coach Hal Laycoe, former National League defenceman, who has been mentioned as a possible coach of Boston or New York. He welded the group of players into a machine that almost swept every possible league honor.

Little Art Jones won the league's scoring title; rookie netminder Don Head, a star in Canada's 1960 Olympic hockey team, took the league's all-star netminder award, average and rookie-of-the-year trophy; veteran Gord Fashoway and the diminutive leftwinger, Arnie Schmutz won berths on the league's second all-star team.

Also, when the club finally got a spot in the spacious new

(From AP-UPI Reports) With Freddie Hutchinson it is either a feast or a famine.

His Cincinnati Reds jumped away fast, won five of their first seven games and led the National League. Then they lost eight straight and dropped to the cellar. Now they have won eight in a row and are running second only two games off the pace.

Cincinnati turned on the home-run power when four out of five batters — Frank Cardenas and Gordy Coleman — hit Warren Spahn for homers in a 5-4 first game victory over Milwaukee.

Jim O'Toole then shut out the Braves 4-0 with five hits in the second game.

GIANTS ROLL ON

San Francisco widened its National League lead to two games by beating Philadelphia 7-0, while Los Angeles Dodgers dropped Pittsburgh Pirates into third place with a 4-2 setback. St. Louis Cardinals beat Chicago Cubs, 4-2, in the first game of a scheduled twin bill called after five innings because of rain.

In the American League, Detroit Tigers made it five straight victories and eight in their last 10 games by sweeping a double-header from the faltering Chicago White Sox, 8-6 and 5-3.

Los Angeles Angels helped Detroit's cause by beating the second-place New York Yankees for the second straight day, 5-3. Washington Senators split a double-header with Cleveland Indians, winning the nightcap, 4-3, after losing the opener, 4-2; Boston Red Sox outslugged the Minnesota Twins, 11-9, and Kansas City Athletics edged Baltimore Orioles, 5-4, in 10 innings. A scheduled second game between the A's and Orioles was rained out.

SOX IN CELLAR

Detroit's double victory extended the White Sox' losing streak to seven games and dropped them into last place. The Reds really exploded against Spahn in the eighth and ninth, just when the 40-year-old lefty appeared headed for his fourth victory and 53rd shutout.

Leading 4-0 with one out, Spahn gave up homers to Robinson and Post before he retired Gene Freese. In the ninth—the first two up, Cardenas and Coleman applied the crusher.

Stan Starts It In Fine Fashion

Stan Wargo made it look like the middle of the summer at Central Park Sunday night as Farmer Construction and Ladysmith ushered in a new Senior "A" Men's Softball League season for Victoria fans.

Wargo was serving up pitches in strictly mid-season form, opening on the mound for Farmers and blanking Ladysmith without a hit for five innings. That was enough for his first outing and he stepped aside in favor of Stan Beaulac. Beaulac yielded a pair of runs in the top of the sixth, but had no worries as he nailed down an 11-2 victory for the construction crew.

Tom Bourne and Norm Curran boomed home runs for Farmers and first baseman Tom Brown, a newcomer to local softball, pounded two singles in three official trips to the plate.

Sooke wins two Sooke also opened the season Sunday on its home field and made it a happy occasion by taking two games from Dumas—a 7-0 win on a three-hitter by Larry Jay and an 11-3 win behind Glen Bullen's 16-strikeout pitching.

Navy and Maycock Optical chalked up solid victories at Heywood Avenue Sunday as the senior "B" Men's Softball League kicked the lid off the new season.

Getting a 10-strikeout hurling effort from Norm Haskell, the sailors erupted for three runs in the eighth to clip Gorge Hotel 4-1.

Maycocks expanded a 2-1 lead with a five-run outburst in the seventh and went on for an 8-2 triumph over Pro Pats.

Old Slammer Easy Winner At Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev., (UPI) — Samuel Jackson Snead, who is pushing 49, has proved once again that age is no barrier to a top notch golf game. And now he's looking forward to another shot at the U.S. Open, the lone major professional golf title that has eluded him.

Snead ran away with the 72-hole $52,000 Tournament of Champions on the Desert Inn Country Club course Sunday, winning by seven strokes and adding $10,000 to his already considerable bankroll.

Bucking strong winds which intermittently swept the desert course, he carried a 72-hole total of 273—15 under par.

Second place went to another veteran, Tommy Bolt, with a total of 280—seven strokes back of Snead. Bolt picked up $5,000.

COLLINS THIRD

Big Bill Collins, at 281, took third place and $3,000; Bob Rosburg got 282 and $2,500; and Doug Ford 283 and $2,100.

Jay Hebert, the national PGA champion who led the tournament for the first two rounds, finished in a tie for sixth with 284 and $1,760.

The only two foreign entrants in the elite field of 26 major tournament winners here—Stan Leonard, of Vancouver, and Gary Player, of South Africa—were tied with Hebert at 284.

Each won $1,760. Leonard had rounds of 69, 67, 74 and 74.

NOT SUFFERING

The $1,760 won Sunday by Leonard boosted his earnings in nine tournaments this year to $3,704.28.

Al Balding of Toronto is the leading Canadian on the tournament trail with $10,331.59 in 15 events. He picked up $192.50 in the Waco Turner Open at Burneyville, Okla., Sunday.

U.S. Open champion Arnold Palmer, who had a 69 on opening day on the par 36-36-72 course, saw his game go to pieces and finished in a tie for 18th place with defending titlist Jerry Barber and Don Fairfield at 296. They didn't go away empty handed, however. Each won $1,160.

Snead, who will be 49 May 27, moved into a five-stroke lead at the end of three rounds and breezed in on the final 18. His rounds were: 68-67-69-69—remarkably consistent golf in erratic weather.

The U.S. Open has escaped him in a score of attempts, but he said: "I'm going to try for the Open again. I putted real well here and maybe that will help me."

City All-Stars Breeze Past Scottish, 4-0

Victoria's soccer all-stars, working to stay in condition for a match with the touring Birmingham side on June 7, appear to be operating on schedule.

The stars turned in a strong effort at Royal Athletic Park, Saturday, whipping Canadian Scottish 4-0 in a benefit match for the Victoria and District League's injured players' fund.

All-Stars, who are due to play another exhibition game next Saturday, got two goals from Mel Cooper and one from Antol Major. The fourth tally came when the goalie, Larry DeCosta, and fullback Ernie Brown, couldn't decide who would stop a loose ball. None of the Stars rated credit for that one.

Ken Hay, Hank Wouters and Al Jones finished in that order behind Wild in all events. Carol Hay had two seconds and a third; Heather Wilson, a second, third and fourth; and Nancy Gosse a third, and two fourths in girls' competition.

Ruth Jessen Wins SPARTANSBURG, S.C. (AP)—Ruth Jessen of Seattle, Wash., shot a one-over-par 73 Sunday for a 54-hole total of 212 and victory in the Betsy Rawls-Peach Blossom women's open golf tournament.

Victoria (winless in two starts) will tackle Nanaimo, battling nothing for four in Intercity Lacrosse League play.

Nanaimo had no difficulty keeping their record intact Saturday at the Island city. Vancouver made certain of that with a comfortable 14-9 victory. Only Don Ashbee (three goals) played well enough to keep Nanaimo close.

They had nothing to match Vancouver's Fred Usselman (four goals) or the accurate two-goal shooting of Gordie Gimble, Bob Babcock and John Cervi.

Ashbee nullified his offensive brilliance by spending 12 minutes in the penalty box.

Tight Race Looms In Mack League

It could be a summer of interesting competition in the Connie Mack baseball circuit.

Two Victoria clubs battled to a sawoff in a twin-bill at Windsor Park Sunday and another city squad broke even at Lake Cowichan. Duncan had to work all the way to chalk up a double victory over the fourth city squad in the six-team circuit as opening-day games suggested closely-matched teams in the league for boys under 19.

At Duncan, the home club blanked Birnie's 4-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Tom Moore and then came back in the nightcap to grab a 7-4 decision with a four-run spree in the fourth inning.

Social Credit had an easy time in the opening tussle at Lake Cowichan, pounding out a 15-1 triumph. The Scored came up with another sharp performance in the second game, but Lake Cowichan was even sharper and squeezed home with a 2-1 victory.

Young Liberals tripped Victoria Optimists 8-3 in the first game at Windsor Park and lost out in the pitchers' battle in the second tussle.

George Hemming, striking out 16 batters and yielding two hits, pitched a 2-0 win for Optimists. Hemming's mates managed only one hit from the offerings of Harold Williams and Bob Newman, who relieved Williams in the sixth inning.

CARRY BACK'S TRAINER JACK PRICE ...

'I Thought He Didn't Have a Shot at the Money'

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (AP)—Is Carry Back a great horse, a good one or just the best of an ordinary lot of three-year-olds?

This question was hashed and re-hashed by experts and laymen alike today as they re-ran the smashing come-from-far-behind victory of one of the turf's greatest bargains in the 87th Kentucky Derby Saturday at Churchill Downs.

And the consensus was that never a gamer race horse came roaring down the derby's final one-quarter mile, which has tested more of the nation's greatest since 1875 and found many of them wanting in speed and stamina that a champion needs.

Jack Price, who trains Carry Back for his wife, Mrs. Katherine Price, called him "best of a poor lot." But he had a twinkle in his eyes and admitted he said it with tongue in cheek.

"I would say he's great. He astounded me in the last 70 yards. At the five-eighths pole, I thought, he didn't have a shot at any of the money. With one-half mile to go I thought maybe we would get a piece of the money. At the quarter-mile, I knew we had at least third. An eighth of a mile farther I thought we would be second. Then he really surprised me."

Carry Back covered the one and one-quarter-mile distance in 2:04 over a track left gluey by Friday rains.

The double entry of Canada's Four-and-Twenty and Flutberby ended seventh and eighth respectively in the 15-horse contest. "Four-and-Twenty faded after setting the pace for the first three-quarters of a mile.

Price had nothing but praise for Fred W. Hooper's Crozier, who apparently had the race won and then dropped the decision by three-quarters of a length as jockey Johnny Sellers brought Carry Back down the middle of the track.

"It would be all right with me if Crozier went some place where I wasn't," Price said.

Chuck Pafke, trainer of Crozier, said he felt the same way about Carry Back but added, "You have to go where the races are. Crozier is a dead game little horse but that other colt is dead game, too."

Crozier, Dr. Miller, Sherluck and Globemaster will take another crack at the champ in the May 20 running of the Preakness at Pimlico, the second jewel in the triple crown. The final is the Belmont Stakes June 3 in New York.

Carry Back will go down as one of the derby's greatest home bargains. Price paid $300 for Joppy, Carry Back's dam who died recently at Ocala, Fla. He bred Joppy to Saggy, a stud whose chief claim to fame was a 1948 win over Citation.

"Saggy's stud fee was $500," said Price, "but I got a discount by breeding three mares at the same time. The total cost was $1,200."

That makes Carry Back's original investment $700. He picked up $120,500 of the $163,000 derby purse to boost his bank account to $612,868 on 10 victories, five seconds and five thirds in 29 starts.

Four-and-Twenty and Flutberby probably will miss at least the Preakness. The horses, owned by Alberta Ranches—operated by Calgary's Max Bell and Vancouver's Frank McMahon—are to head for California within a few days after Four-and-Twenty has an operation for a crack in his left fore-hoof.

"It wasn't serious enough to hamper his derby chances," said trainer Vance Longden. "He just didn't have it after taking the lead."

Far back as horses turned into stretch, Carry Back charged brilliantly to win 87th Run for Roses. He made up 14 lengths in last quarter.

Habs Will Train in City If Schedule Satisfactory

If vice-president Kenny Reardon can work out a satisfactory schedule of exhibition games, Montreal Canadiens will train at Victoria's Memorial Arena next September.

"We want to come to Victoria," Reardon told the Times by telephone from Montreal Sunday night. "Arrangements at your arena seem very good. It's just a question of working out a schedule of games on our way back to Montreal."

It has been known for some time that Canadiens, National Hockey League champions for four successive years and winners of the Stanley Cup for a record five straight times before being upset in this season's semifinals, were dissatisfied with their reception during pre-season training at Montreal and were considering a new training site.

Possibility that the club would train in Victoria was reported by Times Sports editor Doug Peden in his column on April 1. At that time Reardon probably following the usual policy of wishing to make important announcements from a club's home town, hinted there was little chance of a move to Victoria.

In reply to a query by Peden, late in March, Reardon wrote:

"It is true that we are contemplating a move due to the fact that our team last year did not seem to get the proper press coverage during training camp—that one would expect after winning the Stanley Cup five times in a row."

"We are thinking of moving to some other city but as yet no plans have been finalized."

About four weeks ago, Memorial Arena manager Jack Morgan telephoned Reardon, asking if Canadiens were considering a training camp move to the Pacific Coast and advising Reardon that the Victoria arena would probably be available.

Reardon admitted he was interested and called back a few days later for information on dates the arena would be available, cost and accommodation. Canadiens apparently like what Victoria has to offer.

"After talking to Mr. Morgan," Reardon said Sunday, "I think Victoria would fit most conveniently into our plans."

Asked what decision had been reached during a directors' meeting Friday afternoon, Reardon said:

"I have been told to go ahead with plans and it looks very much as if we'll be coming to Victoria. We're anxious to come, but I'll have to get on the phone and line up cities for exhibition games. We must have a good series of games on the way back to arrive in Montreal in top condition. It takes a heck of a lot of planning."

Hoping to have something definite to announce tonight or Tuesday, Reardon said he had been assured of games in some cities but was concerned about a date in Winnipeg and also about what terms would be available for training games on the coast.

"Something else that worries me," said Kenny, "is that I hear Toronto is also thinking of exhibition games out west next season and with Detroit and New York in the same area as usual, we may have trouble getting enough exhibition dates."

If Canadiens play exhibition games against Toronto or any other NHL club it will be a radical departure from Montreal policy.

"We have a policy of never playing pre-season games against other National Hockey League clubs," said Reardon. "It's a policy that has seemed to work in the past."

"But," he commented, "maybe that was only because we had the best players."

Jensen to Return
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Jackie Jensen said Sunday he wants to come back to play baseball with Boston Red Sox. He made his announcement Sunday to executive vice-president Dick O'Connell. Jensen told O'Connell he is on his way to join the team in Los Angeles.

LIFE WITHOUT FATHER

This boy is without a father. But he is not without a father's care and forethought. For life insurance has given him and his mother basic financial protection for as long as they may need it.

If you wonder at times how your family would get along without you, you'll find the answer in life insurance. Why not have a talk with your New York Life Agent? He is specially trained to study your needs and suggest the best and most economical plan to meet them. He can advise you on many New York Life plans; to care for your family if you are not there; to finance your child's education; to cover the mortgage payments on your home; or to create a fund for your own retirement.

Pitchers came up with some heroic efforts Sunday on Victoria's minor baseball scene.

In the Oak Bay Little League, Phil Pimlott tossed a no-hitter for six innings then had to step aside with Evans and Pollards deadlocked in a scoreless tie because league rules set a six-inning/limit on pitchers. But he came out the winner as his Evans mates pounded out eight runs in the top of the seventh to chalk up an 8-0 triumph.

Albert Cliff, hurling a one-hitter for Elks against Seven-Ups in the Lake Hill Little League, almost lost the decision. But before heading for the showers after finishing his six-inning pitching stint, he saved the day by polling a home run in the bottom of the frame to even the count at 1-1. Elks then gave him a victory with two runs in the first extra inning.

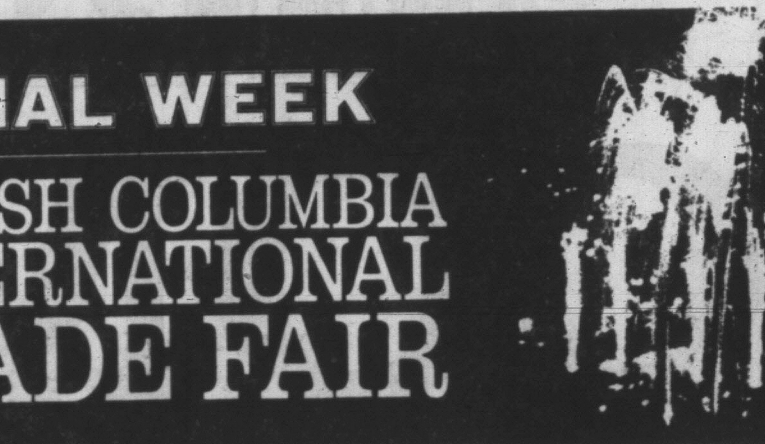

One-hit efforts by Dave Woodley and Doug Hill were the bright spots in the Babe Ruth circuits. Woodley hurled Menzies to an 11-0 win over Victoria Optimists in the Victoria Babe Ruth loop and the 13-year-old Hill pitched School-board to an 11-1 triumph over Brotherhood of Painters in the Evening Optimist league.

In the other Evening Optimist circuit game, catcher Tim Ormiston's home run gave Lake Hill Lockers an 8-7 win over Bapcos.

NEW ICE-SPORTS ARENA at Esquimalt will be graced with this six-foot high replica of the municipality's coat-of-arms. It took sign-writer Reg Jury, 717 Admirals, 86 hours to complete the shield which is made of marine plywood. Esquimalt first got its coat-of-arms in 1957. Only three other municipalities in B.C. have one. Every color and feature tells a little of the municipality's history. The inscription underneath is simply the Naden Indian word for Esquimalt—meaning place of shoaling waters. Another smaller wooden replica hangs in the council chamber.

Cuban Communism in Full Swing

NEW CUBAN INVASION PLANS SET

CHICAGO (AP)—A Cuban rebel spokesman says another invasion army will invade Cuba—probably within six months.

But the next landing, asserted Dr. Jose Ignacio Raso, information secretary of the Democratic Revolutionary Front, will be better prepared. He said during a press conference Saturday that another invasion must take place soon because the security of the United States and Latin America is at stake.

Anti-Castro Recruiting?

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A Miami, Fla. resident came to Houston Saturday to recruit troops for what he called an anti-Castro army of American volunteers training in Miami.

Alfred Thomas DuShane, 23, said he represents George Tanner, of Miami, who he said is the commanding officer of a 200-man fighting force called the Anti-Communist Legionnaires.

Tanner said later that he would send the troops to Cuba only on the authority of President Kennedy.

(CP from AP-Reuters)

HAVANA — Cuba today marked the first anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between Premier Fidel Castro's regime and Russia amid signs of ever closer relations between the two countries.

Both Sunday morning newspapers in Havana heralded the anniversary in glowing phrases.

About 300 Roman Catholic priests and nuns were scheduled to leave this week for Spain, a step in line with nationalization of parochial schools.

And Castro ordered his militia to turn the island into a defensive position like Stalingrad, where the Russians turned back the Nazi attackers in one of the decisive battles of the Second World War.

CUBA'S GOAL

In a radio broadcast, a Cuban socialist leader said communism is the inevitable goal of the Cuban revolution.

The newspaper El Mundo, in a front-page editorial, acknowledged the generous help Russia had given Cuba in the "heroic struggle" against what it called the United States' aggression. The Communist newspaper Hoy says there is a long-standing and "indissoluble friendship between Cuba and the Soviet Union."

The newspaper Combate reported Saturday that a message received by Cuba's foreign ministry from the Russian ambassador told of thousands of Russian workers who had expressed willingness to fight any future "imperialist aggression" side by side with the Cubans.

Opening a new armed forces instruction school, Castro said "we have to consider that the next invaders may be the United States' own soldiers."

In an obvious reference to Russian backing with missiles, Castro said:

"No matter if they attack us with atom bombs, since we would know in the same moment we were being annihilated."

The Catholic priests and nuns are expected to leave Havana Wednesday aboard the steamship Covadonga. Their expulsion follows Castro's attack on what he calls "Falangist" priests from Spain.

No final plans have been announced for some 40 Canadian priests and 40 sisters serving in Cuba as representatives of the Foreign Missionary Society of Montreal.

RICH BRITON'S BODY FOUND NEAR ATHENS

ATHENS, Greece (Reuters) — Athens police investigated the death of a left-wing British millionaire whose body was washed ashore on a beach south of Athens Saturday.

Howard Samuel 47-year-old property tycoon, arrived here Friday night, registered at his hotel and went to a beach 12 miles south of Athens for a swim Saturday morning. Lifeguards recovered his body a few hours later.

The coroner here said the possibility that Mr. Samuel died of a heart attack could not be excluded. The sea at the point where he was found is shallow.

... "no race superior"

AMERICAN PROFESSOR:

'Racial Prejudice on Wane'

BY NORMAN CRIBBENS
Race prejudice is breaking down all over the world and the spread of education is mainly responsible, says Dr. Gwendolen Carter, noted U.S. writer and lecturer.

"It is among the uneducated that you find the most racial intolerance. Education does, or should, teach us that no race is superior biologically or intellectually to another."

Lively good-humored, Dr. Carter is a recognized authority on race and government. She is professor of government at the women's university of Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts, which has more than 2,300 students in residence.

She came to Victoria Friday to address a meeting of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs.

TRAVELS' WRITES

Born and raised at Hamilton, Ont., Dr. Carter is a victim of poliomyelitis and walks on crutches. Yet she has travelled widely and is the author of several books and pamphlets on Africa and the United States. She is now an American citizen.

"In spite of recent demonstrations in the southern States," she said, "there is evidence that racial prejudice in the U.S. is waning."

"At Smith College we have four Africans and six negro students, and on two occasions a negro student has been elected head girl."

"Our fraternity includes Chinese, Japanese, Koreans and many other races."

Even in Africa, Dr. Carter contends there is less color prejudice among the ordinary people than when she first went there 13 years ago.

"I believe this is so in spite of the South African government's apartheid policy and

ALGIERS (AP)—Tracts signed by French army draftees called on European settlers Sunday to give up their underground fight "before we force you to do it."

The tracts were scattered throughout Algiers by soldiers riding in army cars. Addressed to the settler "underground army" and signed "the draftees," they said:

"We blame you for all the wrong which you have done to our country... surrender before we force you to do it."

The tracts accused the Europeans of avoiding military service to "build barricades and make plastic bombs."

The draftee members of the French army in Algeria remained loyal to Paris during the April 22 generals' putsch in Algeria.

Scores of riot police vans patrolled Algiers as reports of tension in Moslem quarters continued to rise.

At Oran, in Western Algeria, a terrorist tossed a grenade in a football stadium where two regional teams were playing. Five Europeans were wounded and the terrorist escaped.

Other demonstrations, involving plastic bombs, stone-throwing and slogan-shouting parades were also reported.

A public radiophone service started in Lancashire in 1959, enables subscribers with sets in their cars to make or receive calls anywhere in the U.K.

PAGEANTRY FOR QUEEN

40,000 Jam Square At Florence Welcome

FLORENCE (AP) — This old Italian city welcomed Queen Elizabeth Sunday with pageantry reflecting the grandeur of its past.
City fathers took full advantage of their city's art and historic treasures to stage a reception unlike any given the Queen thus far on her 11-day tour of Italy.
Mayor Giorgio la Pira formally welcomed the Queen and Prince Philip to the city and trumpeters dressed as 14th century heralds blared out a salute. About 40,000 persons were in town hall square for the ceremony.
Guards armed with halberds stood by in red and white medieval uniforms. Great white Florentine banners, each carrying a red fleur-de-lis, added to the spectacle of the past.

"THE 39 STEPS"
This British film by the J. A. Rank English studios has your favorites — Kenneth More, Taina Elg and Brenda de Banzie in the leading roles. This dramatic British thriller was started by the innocent act of picking up a baby's rattle—before it is finished you will have traveled over England and the Scottish moors. A best seller book over 40 years ago, and still the most exciting. There are lots of laughs as well as thrills.

TO STUDY CRISIS SPOTS

New Agency on Watch
WASHINGTON (AP) — The state department disclosed Saturday formation of a new cold-war operation centre to keep a 24-hour watch on world crisis spots.
The new agency is headed by a veteran foreign-service officer and former ambassador, Theodore C. Achilles, 55, who will work directly under Secretary Dean Rusk.
Achilles and his staff, the department said, are responsible for seeing that recommendations for dealing with crises "are made promptly to the secretary and through him to the president."

How to separate the 'men' from the 'boys' when you buy a compact car

Compact cars come in assorted sizes and prices. Some are top performers; others don't quite make the grade. How to separate them? Compare them with the Austin A99.

Why is the A99 such a perfect yardstick? Because it's the "ideal" in a compact car, combining more fine features than any other compact car—and they're all available as standard equipment!

Austin-Healey Power—the spirited fun of a twin-carburetor sports-car engine... plus overdrive! Both standard equipment! (Fully automatic transmission optional.)

Power-operated Disc Brakes—two safety features to give you sure-footed braking even at highway speeds. Never need adjustment! Both standard equipment and not available on other compacts!

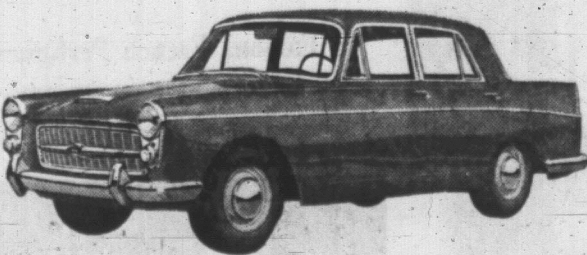

Elegant "finishing touches"—full-grain leather upholstery, deep-pile broadloom on the floor, deep-cushioned foam rubber seats with arm-rests. All standard equipment!

Famed "Farina" Styling—classic lines created by the designer of the world's most elegant automobiles, Italian master Pinin Farina.

Got a compact car all picked out? Compare it with the A99. If it doesn't quite measure up, we suggest you call your Austin dealer and have him demonstrate the A99 for you. No obligation. You'll be pleased to discover what a powerful, finely-styled and well-constructed automobile you can buy at an amazingly practical price.

'My Child Cried And Was Shot'

(Times News Services)

JERUSALEM — A matronly woman told the Eichman trial court today of being shot by men of the Nazi SS elite guard, falling into a mass grave, fighting her way up through bodies for air and surviving.

Mrs. Rifka Yosilevska, a native of Russia, unable to testify last week because of a mild heart attack, was restrained on the witness stand. But her voice broke when she told of seeing her little daughter shot.

In the Pinsk area in 1942, she said, Jews were rounded up by the hundreds and taken to a burial pit.

Her account of what happened then held the 700 spectators spellbound at the 30th session of the trial of Adolf Eichmann, charged with being a chief accomplice in the Nazi extermination of 6,000,000 Jews.

"We were taken, some in a truck and others forced to run behind it," Mrs. Yosilevska said.

Those in the truck, arriving first, were stripped and shot by the time they got to the freshly-dug pit. Her father refused to undress, she said, and his clothing was torn from him.

"There were four devils, SS men, they shot us."

'We Were Anxious to Get It All Over'

"The children wanted to run. It was hard to hold on to them. We hurried, we were sort of anxious to get it all over. My mother... my grandmother, she was 80 years old and had a baby in her arms... my father... my sister."

"Then it came my turn. The German asked me 'who shall I shoot first?' I did not answer. My child cried out and was shot. He aimed at me, holding on to my hair and pulling my head around. I heard a shot. Then he ordered me to watch and there was another shot. Then I fell into the pit but I felt nothing."

Shepherds Threw Stones at Her

Mrs. Yosilevska said she wandered naked, dazed wounded in the head and wondering if she was half mad, into nearby fields where she lay for three days. Several shepherds saw her and threw stones at her. She remained motionless and convinced them hers was a dead body.

A farmer found her, revived her and helped her hide until the area was captured by the Soviet army.

Israeli Attorney-General Gideon Hausner announced at the beginning of the trial that im-

6-Day Cadet Camp Starts Thursday

"Exercise Northbound," third annual event of its kind, will be under way on Thursday for about 80 cadets of the Canadian Services College at Royal Roads.

For six days the officer cadets will camp on Portland Island, off Sidney, to gain practical experience in field exercises. They will enjoy a full program of sports, including swimming, fishing, and rifle shooting, as well as visits to several of the nearby Gulf Islands.

The expedition will return to the college May 17. It is under the direction of Lieut. Col. H. E. C. Price, deputy commandant of the college.

I heard a shot. Then he ordered me to watch and there was another shot. Then I fell into the pit but I felt nothing."

Mrs. Yosilevska halted for a moment as though to get her breath then went on.

"I felt a sort of heaviness and thought I was dead. Then I was choking. There were people falling on me. I must be alive, I thought. I could rise. I prayed for another bullet. Then I managed to climb toward the top but I felt bodies pulling at me, pulling me down, down.

"I crawled out of the pit. There were bodies everywhere. I wanted to see the end of the stretch of bodies but I could not see the end. Some were not dead. I called for my little girl. I could not find her."

Shepherds Threw Stones at Her

Mrs. Yosilevska said she wandered naked, dazed and wounded in the head and wondering if she was half mad, into nearby fields where she lay for three days. Several shepherds saw her and threw stones at her. She remained motionless and convinced them hers was a dead body.

A farmer found her, revived her and helped her hide until the area was captured by the Soviet army.

Israeli Attorney-General Gideon Hausner announced at the beginning of the trial that immunity from arrest would be extended to two former Nazi SS officers—Col. Walter Huppenkothen and Maj. Wilhelm Hoettl—so they could come to testify on behalf of Eichmann.

Technically, they could be arrested for belonging to organizations defined as "criminal" under Israeli law but this would not be enforced, Hausner said.

At his home in Austria, however, Hoettl said he had no intention of going to Israel to give evidence. He said he did not believe his testimony would be of any use to either the prosecution or the defence. Hausner earlier had refused to grant immunity to eight other ex-Nazi witnesses and warned that if they showed up in Israel they would be arrested. Any evidence they gave would have to be through affidavits given to judges in the countries where they live.

Dr. Robert Servatius, Eichman's West German defence lawyer, asked that Hoettl and Huppenkothen be allowed to come to Israel to be cross-examined on statements introduced by the prosecution.

Blasts Blamed On 'Conspiracy'

Extra Police Ordered To Kootenay

Bombings in Kootenay country are not regarded by the B.C. government as religious protests but a criminal conspiracy, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today.

He was commenting on last Friday's bomb incidents in the Kootenays.

Mr. Bonner said the government is prepared to do whatever the RCMP advises to stamp out violence there. Extra police went into the area over the weekend.

SUBSISTERS
"We regard it simply as a criminal conspiracy," he said. "The subsisters have made the excuse in the past that it has been motivated by religious principles. I don't know of any group in which dynamiting has been regarded as religious motivation."

Mr. Bonner received a wire from Trail Mayor Leslie A. Read saying the Kootenay people "are disgusted at the half-hearted manner in which the government is treating the acts of violence and terrorism."

The attorney-general said such comments are "based on lack of information."

"There is nothing half-hearted about the steps we have taken to investigate and determine responsibility for the events of last Friday."

ACTION PLEDGED
"Any request the police make for further measures will be acted upon by the B.C. government," said Mr. Bonner. "We have always followed the recommendations of the police. And we have asked that all additional people be made available."

Six RCMP officers were flown to Nelson this weekend, and another 10 constables are expected in the area shortly to aid investigations.

Top Official To Clarify Labor Status

Status of organized labor in Victoria with relation to the New Party is expected to be clarified in a meeting here next week with national labor official George Home.

Mr. Home, director of political education in the Canadian Labor Congress—pledged to support the New Party—will speak and answer questions at a gathering of local labor representatives in the labor hall at 7:30 p.m. May 19.

The meeting is advertised by Victoria Labor Council, representing about 8,000 unionists in the area, as an important one and all local union officers, members of political education committees and other union members are being urged to attend.

LOST CHAIRMAN
The council's own political education committee lost its chairman with disaffiliation of International Woodworkers of America, which criticized lack of direct political action on New Party policy.

Since then, a committee of volunteers headed by stand-in chairman William Gauld, Vancouver Island representative of the CLC, has been authorized to accept donations to the New Party, independent of Victoria Labor Council.

ASK The TIMES

Q. Could you please tell me how long Maurice Richard played for Montreal Canadiens and what was his goal average per game? J. C.

A. The "Rocket" played 18 National Hockey League seasons with the Canadiens, appearing in 978 league games and 133 playoff games. He scored 544 goals in regular-season games and 82 goals in playoffs, an average of 5543 goals per game.

Q. I've noticed wild watercress growing along the Cadboro Bay waterfront. Can it be picked? G. S.

A. There are no regulations against picking wild watercress. It grows rapidly.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along with The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve commercial or legal problems. No will attempt to put a value on old records, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

DATES for the Victoria Gizeh Temple Shrine Club circus were announced today by the committee chairman, Dick Porter—June 6-7. Arrangements have been completed to bring Rudy Bros. Circus to Memorial Arena.

'Misguided Junior' Suspected

See Page 30

Investigation of the national committee on radiation hazards is probably confined to inquiries by a "misguided junior" on RCMP staff, Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside said here today.

He was commenting on Saskatchewan Premier Tommy Douglas' charge Saturday that RCMP inquiries are making the committee which Dr. Keenleyside heads appear "subversive."

SAME OBJECTIVES
"The objectives of all our committees are almost identical with those of our minister for external affairs and Liberal leader L. B. Pearson and Hazen Argue of the CCF," said Dr. Keenleyside, who is also chairman of the B.C. Power Commission.

He said he certainly doesn't regard the peaceful aims of the committee at all subversive.

BACKED BY HOUSE
Its main objective—to halt spread of nuclear weapons and urge disarmament—was endorsed unanimously by the B.C. legislature, he added.

"I find it difficult to believe the RCMP is making a serious investigation."

"There's probably just some misguided initiative on the part of some junior official in the staff," he added.

It was learned that in Regina there are reports that an RCMP officer was questioning neighbors of people who had taken part in a demonstration against nuclear weapons there.

Mr. Douglas addressed the crowd which marched to the provincial legislature.

A similar reaction to Mr. Douglas' charge came from Rabbi Abraham Feinberg, chairman of the Toronto Committee for Disarmament, affiliated to Dr. Keenleyside's group.

He said he would be "surprised and shocked" if there were any investigation.

Power Boatmen Elect Officers At Maple Bay

J. Courtney Haddock, Victoria, was elected Sunday as district commander of the six Vancouver Island Power Squadrons which met on the weekend at Maple Bay.

Other officers elected, all by acclamation, were Kenneth Guest, Nanaimo, vice-commander; John Grieve, Maple Bay, training officer; Howard Tyrrell, Nanaimo, treasurer; and Ernest Harding, Nanaimo, secretary.

Victor W. Griffin, Victoria, is past district commander. Nanaimo squadron trophy for the "man overboard" contest was won by Jack Phillips of the Cowichan squadron. It was presented by Alex Neville, Port Credit, Ont., national commander of Canadian Power Squadrons.

$6 Tax Hike Now In Sight For City

Final Tally Made To Cut Expenses

City council today was to make a final effort to cut back a potential $10 tax increase for the average home-owner to about $6.

A searching appraisal to find even pennies that could be cut from the budget was scheduled in an effort to slice a little more from the 55-mill figure reached Friday after a complete examination of the estimates.

That's up 2 1/2 mills from last year's level.

Although one mill means only $4.50 to the average taxpayer, it adds up to a total of about $95,000 in taxation for the whole city.

"We've just got to cut down the estimates further," said an anxious Mayor Percy Scourah today. "We just can't go for a 2 1/2 mill increase."

NO CHANCE

The mayor said he saw no possibility of cutting back the mill rate to last year's level without "a very definite deterioration to the services."

"But I do hope we can take another mill off today before striking the 1961 rate."

"However, it remains to be seen whether or not it can be done."

Prime targets for any further cutting could be: the city's contingency fund; a $50,000 winter works program; two comfort stations at Gonzales Beach and Stadacona Park; a $10,000 program of re-wiring and installing new laundry equipment in the Mountain View Home for aged men; a $9,800 system of electronic traffic signal controls for fire trucks; and a $2,500 matching grant fund to encourage playground development.

20-Shop 'Plaza' Esquimalt Plan

Chain Store, Big Parking Space Featured in Project Near Arena

Esquimalt council will be asked tonight to approve plans for a new shopping centre on Esquimalt Road.

If the go-ahead is given, an area adjoining the new $400,000 ice-sports arena likely will blossom into a contemporary, landscaped "plaza."

A spokesman for Capital Holdings Ltd., who specialize in shopping centre development, today said the Esquimalt plan calls for a plaza comprising 20 shopping units—including a chain store—and parking space with accommodation for 160 cars.

17 OTHERS

Capital Holdings, he said, has developed or is developing 17 similar centres west of the Great Lakes.

After its regular meeting tonight, Esquimalt council will go into committee in an effort to get the 1961 budget "wrapped up."

Reeve A. C. Wurtele said during the weekend one of the major causes for delay in striking the mill rate is a mix-up over council obtaining a "nest egg" of $180,000.

That was the sum paid by the federal government to the municipality last year in lieu of school taxes.

NEW LAW

In the past the money has always been applied to the following year's school taxes. But new legislation passed at the last session of the House deals only with current grants.

Reeve Wurtele said there is no authority in the new legislation to dispose of grants for last year.

Delayed Exam Decision Due By Next Week

Victoria College student John Hart, forced to miss writing his final examinations after he was beaten up by hoodlums, has not given up hope.

A meeting of the faculty of the college will decide next week whether the 20-year-old Nanaimo student will be allowed to write examinations in August. This would give him his year's standing in spite of the fact that after-effects of the beating left him unable to write his examinations last month as scheduled.

Hart was walking along Esplanade, in Oak Bay, not far from his Victoria residence, at about 1:10 a.m. on Thursday, April 13, when two young men got out of a parked car saying "Here is someone who wants to go in the water."

He was beaten unconscious and did not find his way home until after 3 a.m.

Young Girl Hurt When Car Hit From Behind

A rear-end car collision in Central Saanich Sunday sent a young girl to Royal Jubilee Hospital with face and head injuries.

Nine-year-old Donna Gregory was knocked unconscious for a short time by the impact when a car, driven by Morag Symington, 909A Bank Street, collided with the rear of a car driven by Garry Politano, 3815 Wilkinson. The child's head hit the windshield.

She was released after treatment at the hospital.

Police said the accident occurred at 4:45 p.m. on the Patricia Bay Highway near the Keating Crossroad intersection.

DR. BOETTCHER ... to Hartford

U.S. Position For Hospital Administrator

Dr. Ernest N. Boettcher, medical superintendent of St. Joseph's Hospital since 1956, has been appointed associate executive director of Hartford Hospital at Hartford, Connecticut, it was announced today.

"This is a great honor for Dr. Boettcher, which reflects credit on his work for St. Joseph's," a spokesman said.

"His new position carries extensive responsibility for the entire internal operation of the Hartford Hospital."

STARTS IN AUGUST

Dr. Boettcher will work under the guidance of executive director Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton who is known across the continent as an outstanding hospital administrator.

He will take up his new duties in August. Formerly administrative assistant at Toronto General Hospital, Dr. Boettcher was appointed medical superintendent of St. Joseph's Hospital in September, 1956.

He is a graduate of the Universities of Alberta and Toronto and interned at Vancouver and Hamilton general hospitals. He holds a diploma in hospital administration and is a bachelor of science as well as a doctor of medicine.

CAMPAIGNED

During the past year Dr. Boettcher has been active in a public appeal for $250,000 to complete financing of a $2,500,000 building program for St. Joseph's Hospital.

He is president of the Community Welfare Council of Greater Victoria, first vice-president of the B.C. Hospital Association and a prominent campaigner for the Community Chest.

5,000 Cheer 'Mermaid' Win

A crowd estimated at 5,000 jammed the beach at Tsartlip Indian Reserve Sunday afternoon for the annual program of sports and Indian dances sponsored by Saanich Indian Recreation Commission.

Highlight of the day was a race for 11-man war canoes, won for the second consecutive year by "Mermaid" of Galiano Island.

Skipped by Johnny Crocker, the sleek racer covered the 3 1/2-mile course in 19 minutes to win the Bishop Hill perpetual trophy.

In second place was "Our Lady of Guadalupe," representing the sponsoring recreation commission, and skippered by Arnold Sylvester. Skipper Arnold Joe of Duncan brought "Mount Prevost" into third place in the 12-boat race.

There was only one casualty. While making the turn near Senanus Island the new "Prince Charles" from Nanaimo sliced the prow off "Lady Esther" of Saanich. The damaged boat was knocked out of competition but the crew was able to bring it safely to shore.

Education Minister Leslie Peterson opened the program and congratulated the commission on its program, which started at 1:30 p.m. and continued until after 6 p.m.

There were races for single and two-man canoes, and a long series of native Indian dances. Victoria Reef Rovers put on an exhibition of scuba diving and music during the program was provided by the fife and drum band of the Kuper Island Indian Residential School.

Prior to the opening, the North Saanich High School band played for an hour for the early arrivals.

SOLD OUT

The Indians in charge of the event had barbecued 250 pounds of salmon, but were sold out in two hours.

"We'll have more next year," said Chief Don Williams of Saanich No. 3 Reserve, commission chairman and master of ceremonies for the day.

Weather threatened early in the afternoon, and there were a few drops of rain, but most of the day was spent in sunshine.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

An essay contest is being held in conjunction with "Be Kind to Animals Week" which ends Saturday, deadline for submission of articles of not more than 500 words on the subject, "Duty Towards Animals."

The competition, which has a $25 prize, is sponsored by the SPCA, 111 Wilson. Articles should be sent there.

Also, in connection with the week, the society is undertaking a drive for increased membership.

Membership now stands at about 500.

Last remaining poles, cross-arms and lines along the route of the first long-distance circuits from Victoria to Bellingham and Seattle are being removed by the British Columbia Telephone Company.

Built in 1904, the route was abandoned for long distance use in 1953, when a radiotelephone system to Port Angeles went into operation. Some of the poles and lines which are now being removed were retained for local use, including broadcast lines to the transmitters of local radio stations.

New facilities have made the poles and lines obsolete.

First in a series of programs for French Film Week at the Art Gallery this evening will feature life in Quebec city and rural Quebec.

Also on tonight's program, which starts at 8, and is open to the public, is a new French government film, "Le grand oeuvre." All the films are in color.

Special guests at the showing will be student-teachers of French currently finishing their two-week practicum in the Victoria area.

The May meeting of the volunteer corps of the Silver Threads Service has been cancelled. The group's next meeting will be in June.

Mariners are advised to watch out for diving operations being conducted this week in the approaches to Esquimalt harbor.

A team of half-a-dozen RCN frogmen are undergoing a routine training program during the course of which they will carry out a bottom search.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Keep Your Handbag Tidy With Versatile Duo-Kit

By PENNY SAVER

One of the handiest items that a woman can buy is the duo-kit that sells at $1.50. Made of corded silk in gay Roman stripes on a black background, it consists of a change purse at one end with room for coins, silver and notes and a zippered compartment at base that's lined with waterproofed material and ideal for carrying make-up aids in. A smart gilded clasp and handle complete look of elegance.

Many readers have asked where they could get a container that would hold all their belongings and yet be easily transferred to any handbag at a minute's notice. Duo-kits would be ideal for this.

For the woman that golfs, there's another item that's bound to appeal. This is a calf leather holder, complete with a permanent score board and slot containing pencil. On other side of holder, there's a special slotted strip that holds six tees. Holder is designed so that it will fasten on to a belt. They're well worth the $1.75 they're priced at.

Now that white pigtex leather shoes are beginning to head the fashion poll again, smart women are getting matching handbags that have just arrived from England. There are four designs from which to choose, including, of course, the popular pouch style. All have sturdy gilded clip fasteners and are lined with white corded silk. They're a real "buy" at $7.95.

If you would like to know where Penny shopped today give her a ring at EV 2-3131.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Thought of Your Home As a Vacation Resort?

Considering the fact that most people get only one vacation a year, the way it is spent is most important. It is a sad fact that often men and women return from their vacation feeling much more tired than they did when they left home.

I have suggested in this Lowman column many times that there are some years when staying at home is the best vacation of all. No matter how much fun it is, getting ready for a vacation and travelling to get there are tiring. If you feel the need of real rest and getting ready for departure seems a chore, a home vacation is probably best for you.

A couple who have no children can have a wonderful and much less expensive vacation in this way. They can loaf in their own home and their own backyard and go out to attractive restaurants for dinner when they wish. They can take short trips of a couple of days' duration to nearby, attractive spots.

A couple who has children can spend one-tenth the money they would on a two-week trip away from home and still employ a combination cook and nurse, who sleeps in. They, too, can go on short trips away from the children.

One of the most deceptive, so-called vacations, is summer resort. For those who do not have enough social life or those who do not have many friends, this is wonderful. It gives them a chance to make new friends and to enjoy various activities with others. However, if you lead a busy life and are active socially at home, it may be extremely tiring to you to have to meet the daily social engagements planned for you.

At any rate, a vacation is a highly individual matter and what was the perfect one for last year may not be appropriate for this year, and vice versa. Why not give some thought to those wonderful few weeks?

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Tricks in Camping," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 69 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

COFFEE BREAD-AND-BUTTER PUDDING

One cup strong coffee, 1 cup light cream, 2 cups milk, 6 thin slices raisin bread, soft butter or margarine, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg.

Combine coffee, cream and milk; bring to scalding point. Spread bread slices lightly with butter or margarine; do not trim off crusts. Cut in half-inch cubes and add to coffee mixture. Beat eggs slightly; add sugar and salt; mix well.

Add bread mixture and vanilla. Pour into 1 1/2-quart casserole. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Set casserole in pan of warm water.

Bake in moderate oven, 325°, 1 hour and 15 minutes or until knife inserted near rim of casserole comes out clean. Chill. Serve with plain or whipped cream. Makes 8 servings.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled as just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTETITE, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." Get PASTETITE at drug counters everywhere. Adv.

Joset Walker

Joset Walker's three-piece sun-n-swim outfit can be made in the cool of a summer morning to be ready for the beach by noon the same day. The bra, cut bare and spare, is simply knotted as a kerchief or crisscrossed in back with the ends brought over the shoulders into straps that button in front. A shaped length of cloth is all there is to the shorts that go on like baby pants and tie at the waistline. An added bonus is the brief bolero top to pop on when the sun's rays are hottest. Select your fabric from the season's gayest cottons, plain or printed, and plan a splashy contrast for the linings so that the set can be worn reversed when you choose. From these corresponding body measurements select the one size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to ready-to-wear.

Sizes Small (8-10) Medium (12-14) Large (16-18)
Bust 33 - 34 35 - 36 38 - 40

DEAR ABBY

Your Turn!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: If you had been raised on a farm and milked cows, you would not need to consult a "psy-cow-logist" to know why the cow would not let a woman fear her. A cow is a very intelligent beast. She doesn't trust anyone with full skirts, loud colors and perfume. Some men could learn a lot from a cow.

FROM THE COUNTRY. DEAR FROM: Women who set about to milk cows do not wear full skirts, loud colors and perfume. They dress under-wise.

DEAR ABBY: I was married at 16. It was a "have to" case. I never cared much for children but I had this baby girl to raise. She was always very mean and hateful, and we defested each other. When she was ten, I divorced her father and remarried. She grew even more impossible to handle, so I contacted her father (he had moved to another place and remarried also), and he agreed to let her come to live with them. They were glad to have her, and I was glad to get rid of her. She turned out surprisingly well. She was graduated from high school with honors, and won a scholarship to college. She is now 22. I have not seen her since she was 11. She wrote, telling me she is being married and I am well, come to come to the wedding, but if I go, will I please do her a favor and not tell anyone I am her real mother. Would you go on those terms? I have a mind to go and tell everyone who I am.

REAL MOTHER. DEAR MOTHER: Either go to the wedding and respect your daughter's wishes, or stay home.

DEAR ABBY: How should you wear a corsage? With the stem up or down? What if it has ribbons on the stem? My friends and I have had many discussions on this subject and nobody seems to know. Thank you.

R. R. DEAR R. R.: A florist once told me that the stem of the flower should be on the bottom, and the flower should "look up" at the wearer.

This Reducing Plan Really Works

"The Naran Plan is what I have been hoping for. I was just about convinced that I was fat for life when a friend told me about your plan. To my surprise I began to get results at the end of the first week and have been losing ever since. I am sure that I can now keep my weight where I want it." — W. Montgomery, Montreal, P.Q.

Overweight people generally fall into two classes, those who have tried to reduce and failed and those who have never tried at all. You do not have to be in either group. Make up your mind that you are no longer going to suffer the discomfort and embarrassment of being overweight. You are not far from a drug store, walk over and ask for the Naran Plan and begin today to lose weight while eating three meals a day. It is that simple, after you have lost weight, you will wonder why you didn't do it sooner.

Steak Bought in Canada Was Cooked in Scotland

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Speed at which a person travels by air from one country to another today was brought home to me on the weekend when Betty Willis, well-known Victoria currier, told me the following story:

Her nephew, Dr. Alexander Kirk, who has been teaching chemistry at Victoria College, left by air for his home in Dunfermline, Scotland, last Wednesday evening. There was one short stop-over on the trip—at Montreal —and he had arranged to see another aunt at Dorval Airport in this time.

He asked the Montreal aunt to buy him a Grade 1 Canadian steak and bring it to the plane. That steak crossed the Atlantic with him, and on Thursday night, one day after leaving Victoria, he cooked it for his mother's dinner—in Dunfermline.

Dr. Kirk plans to spend about six weeks in Scotland before returning to Canada to continue his studies on methyl hydroperoxide and ketone photolysis. He recently received a grant of $2,000 from the National Research Council.

His Prediction Coming True

More than five years ago I spent some time in Nagasaki during a two-month visit to Japan.

While there I met a scholarly Japanese man who was acting as an interpreter. He had suffered much through the bombing of Nagasaki but, when I met him, he had cloaked his sorrows in a philosophy that had no rancor and no hatred.

He believed sincerely that "it will never happen again." And he wanted to see peace come to the world.

He said, however, that true peace would never come until the peoples of the world understood each other better.

"We will need a universal language," he told me, "then suspicions, tensions and all the other things that disturb, will be gone. We will understand each other."

That universal language would be English, my Japanese friend said.

He did not particularly like the English language, he said, it was so harsh. There was no music in it. But he could see, even then, that the English language would be the universal language — if there ever was such a thing.

In Japan the constitution formed after the war made the study of English a selective subject in schools — and 30 per cent of the students were taking it he said, even then.

In the weekend papers appears a Canadian Press release telling us that interpreters have been underworked at the British Columbia International Trade Fair in Vancouver, where 37 countries are displaying wares.

Reason given by Miss Flona Anderson of Victoria is "every one speaks English."

It would appear that the prophecy made by my Japanese friend is slowly coming true.

Musical Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Greenwood were hosts at a musical evening in their Richmond Road home on Friday evening. Party was in honor of Lt. Cmdr. John F. Turner and Mrs. Turner who leave shortly for Halifax. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Alec Gray, Mr. and Mrs. R. Paquette, Mr. and Mrs. G. Margison, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lee, Mrs. Ida Turner, Mrs. Naomi Woodburn, Mrs. Helen Bishop, Mrs. K. Beech, the Misses Susan and Louise Turner, Mary K. Beech, Mrs. Therese and Nickeline Paquette, Betty Lou Greenwood and Mr. Raymond Greenwood.

From Hong Kong

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Robbins Jr. and daughter, Bonita, arrived from Hong Kong last week by Se Chusan to make their home in Victoria. Their elder daughter, Lois, who has just completed her final year at UBC, has joined them and the family is presently living with Mr. Robbins' father, Mr. E. A. Robbins, 3810 Synod Road. Mr. Robbins Jr. was educated in Victoria but has spent the last 28 years in the Orient.

At B.C. House

Several Victorians travelling abroad recently registered at British Columbia House, London. Among them were Mrs. Florence M. Gauld, Mrs. Hermione E. McIntyre, Mrs. K. C. Harvey, Mrs. H. Creighton, Mrs. Margaret Pollard with David and Della and Miss Audrey G. Linnes. Other Vancouver Island people who have registered at B.C. House are Mrs. Charles F. Johnson and Col. R. O. Bruce and Mrs. Bruce of Sidney and Miss Elizabeth Norie, Cowichan Station.

Reports Heard—Mrs. P. Bell, municipal regent, was guest at recent business meeting of Royal Bridge Chapter, IOOE, held at home of Miss C. Brown. Reports were heard from regent, Mrs. R. Clarke, concerning provincial meeting and Mrs. H. Parrot as convener for IOOE portion of Salvation Army Matson Lodge project. Group decided to continue giving two $100 scholarships, four book prizes and a trophy for citizenship to Belmont High School. Social meeting held Thursday featured a demonstration on floral arranging by Mrs. Norma Fitzsimmons.

Traditional Social Stratus Still Dogs Unmarried Career Woman

TORONTO (CP)—The unmarried career woman must be "somewhat more competent than men because public confidence in her competence has not yet wholly caught on," a Toronto education official said recently.

J. R. H. Morgan, superintendent of secondary schools, told delegates at the annual meeting of the Provincial Council of Women that women must have a greater degree of adroitness in handling the peculiar problems posed by her traditional social status.

"Even in the functioning of purely vocational skill, society demands a certain approach from women," he said. "Somehow she is expected to weed the garden without getting her hands dirty."

Because of her role in life, a woman's education "should be fundamentally and unequivocally of that flavor which we call liberal."

Her roles include economic, "keeper of our culture," educator and religious counsellor.

Naval Uniforms Worn at Wedding

Navy blue Royal Canadian Navy uniforms worn by the groom, best man, and ushers, were a perfect foil for pastel tones in bridal attendants' gowns at a wedding on Saturday morning that united Miss Marjorie Gwendolyn Mahon and PO Gordon Gale Pettigrew.

St. Andrew's Cathedral was decorated with tulips and blue iris for the ceremony. Fr. John Farrell officiated. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Mahon of Saanichton and G. R. Pettigrew, Millet, Alta., and the late Mrs. Pettigrew.

The bride chose a pure silk taffeta gown designed on princess lines with sequin and pearl lace overlay. The bustle-backed skirt was slightly train. Red roses and white stephanotis were in her bouquet. She was given in marriage by her uncle, W. S. Mahon.

ATTENDANTS

Matron of honor Mrs. C. T. Scott, sister of the bride, wore a ballerina-length gown of pale jade and white lace. Bridesmaid, Miss Jean Douglas was in a pale mauve dress. Both carried yellow carnations and tulips.

PO James Connolly was best man and the ushers were PO John Frederick and Sgt. David Gibson.

Honeymoon will be spent on the mainland. The bride travelled in a yellow floral sheath dress and jacket with accessories en-tone and wearing a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

For the wedding, the bride's mother wore a blue silk sheath dress, matching accessories and corsage of tiny pink roses. The couple will make their home at 3268 Wicklow Street.

NEWS OF THE ISLAND

DUNCAN — Cowichan District 65 school board will seek the help of North Cowichan municipal council in having the highways department install a flashing light at the busy Trans-Canada Highway-James Street intersection.

The department recently rejected the board's bid for a light, listing six reasons based on an on-the-spot survey as to why it is not needed.

Mrs. Isabel Tarlton, board chairman, remarked that while the survey was made between 3 and 4 p.m., the busiest time at the crossing is in the morning, when children are going to school.

Trustee W. S. Holgate said that in September, when a new junior high school will be open, the crossing will be busier than ever.

"We probably won't get anything done until someone gets killed," said Trustee Grant Loveseth.

NORTH COWICHAN — The municipality of North Cowichan, which owned one-half of a swimming pool built on the Duncan outskirts by volunteer firemen, has decided to buy the rest of the pool.

Council has agreed to pay Mrs. Hattie Kier of Vancouver $5,000 for her half-acre of land on which part of the pool had been built by mistake. A small portion of the lot will be subdivided, and the balance offered for sale as an industrial site.

QUALICUM — Contract of $882.91 for construction of facilities to improve salmon spawning conditions in Big Qualicum River has been awarded by the federal fisheries department to General Construction Co. Ltd. of Vancouver.

Plan calls for regulation of water flow by means of series of dams and tunnels between Horne Lake and river's mouth, eight miles north of here.

CAMPBELL RIVER — Two local men, Bruce Saunders and Eric Smith, were elected at Pentecost Sunday as vice-presidents of the B.C. Recreation Association.

SIDNEY — Ronald Dale Haas, 28, of Vancouver, charged with burglary in connection with a breaking and entering at Cunningham Drug Store here April 21, will be tried May 20 in Sidney police court.

JORDAN RIVER — The sum of $172.50 was donated by residents on the West Coast Road from Jordan River to Sooke in aid of the Conquer Cancer Fund. Collection was made by Mrs. E. Lines and Mrs. P. Giannini in "memory of friends."

Cougar Shot

GANGES — A 120-pound, three-year-old male cougar believed to be responsible for killing sheep on Salt Spring Island in the past month was shot Sunday on Prevost Island.

It was reported to government predator hunters James Dewar of Nanaimo and Skate Hames of Courtenay, who have been tracking the animal with dogs for the last two or three weeks.

One-half mile of water in Captain Passage separates Prevost Island from Nose Point on Salt Spring Island.

SAFETY RECORDS

Nine Awards Won By Island Firms

Six forest products firms operating on Vancouver Island have won nine Workmen's Compensation Board awards for safety records in their operations during 1960.

Crown Zellerbach Canada Limited won three awards in the logging section. The company as a whole was honored in the class for multiple logging operations, while Lady Smith division led the over-350,000 man-hours class, and the Brown's River operation topped the 200,001-350,000-hour class.

TWO AWARDS

Rayonier B.C. Limited won two awards. Its Canadian Puget Sound Lumber and Timber Co. Ltd. Jordan River logging operation led the 50,001-100,000 man-hour class, and its Totem Shingle Division mill at Fanny Bay, with no accidents, was high in the 75,001-125,000-hour class for shingle mills.

Other winners were: B.C. Forest Products Ltd. Victoria Plywood Division, in plywood plants of 350,000 man-hours and over.

Builders Sash and Door Ltd. Victoria, millwork firms in 50,001-100,000-hour class, with no accidents.

McCarter Shingle Co. Ltd. Victoria, shingle mills of 40,001-75,000 hours.

Shawnigan Boy Wins K of P Speaking Contest

Julian Greenwood of Shawnigan Lake School for Boys, on Friday night won the lower Vancouver Island public speaking contest sponsored by the Knights of Pythias.

Contest was held in the Sidney K of P Hall, with members of the lodge there in charge. Runners-up were Dean Smith of Victoria High School and Rhys Phillips of Mount Newton High School.

The winner will compete in the all-B.C. contest in Duncan May 18. If he is successful there he will go to regional finals in Portland, Ore. Last step will be the North American finals at Miami, Fla.

'NEXT MOVE UP TO HEALTH OFFICER'

One Sewer Bylaw Passes But Second Badly Beaten

NORTH COWICHAN — One sewer bylaw was passed and another defeated in voting in this municipality Saturday.

The Alexander Townsite bylaw for $131,000 passed by a comfortable margin of 62-36, with two rejected ballots, while the Mary Street bylaw for $127,000 was soundly defeated 106-45.

SCHOOL HOOKUP

Reeve Donald C. Morton said Saturday night he was thankful that the Townsite bylaw had passed, in that the new junior high school being built in that area will be connected to the system.

He said, however, that there is little likelihood of the Mary Street bylaw being put a second time because of the defeat.

UP TO MHO

"The vote was so decisively against the plan that I feel the medical health officer will have to make the next move," the Reeve said.

He regretted that such an active campaign against the bylaw had been carried out by "a few uninformed residents," but that the council could do no more.

There had been considerable protest against both sewer plans from the standpoint of drainage, in that the Mary Street system would have discharged into Holmes Creek, and the Townsite system into Somenos Creek.

In both cases treatment plants were scheduled for installation, and both had been approved by the federal fisheries department in regard to effect of the systems on the streams, and ultimately on lower Cowichan River.

FLOODLIT SCHOOLS TO CUT VANDALISM

DUNCAN — Floodlights to discourage vandalism will be installed at six schools in Cowichan School District 65 at a cost of $539.

School board has approved the lights for Alexander, George Bonner, Somenos, Tansor Shawnigan Lake, and Crofton schools.

Similar action was taken by the board two weeks ago after an outbreak of vandalism at the Mount Prevost Junior High School. A floodlight installation costing $164 was approved for the school.

Resolute, 320 miles to the south, which is open to shipping in summer.

And because of white-outs and the fog which gives the bay its name Isachsen is a pilot's nightmare 12 months of the year.

White-outs — where earth and sky vanish in an eerie, luminous nothingness — are caused by tiny ice crystals, suspended in midair. At Isachsen, ice fog is almost always hanging over the airstrip.

There are times when an aircraft landing in clear blue sky will create a white-out behind as it touches down on the strip. All the pilot can do then is sit and wait for the white-out to clear. He can't take off because he can't see in any direction except straight down — and if he's over unbroken ice or snow, he can't see anything at all.

Heart of Basin

This happy set of statistics would normally place Isachsen at the bottom of the list of places anyone doing research and survey work in the high Arctic would choose as a base. But Isachsen has two things in its favor. It's here, and it's in the heart of the polar basin.

And since the Polar Continental Shelf Project is intensely interested in the polar basin, Isachsen is Polar Base for the biggest job Canada has ever tackled in the Arctic.

There are two sides to this job," says Dr. Fred Roots, project coordinator. "One is straight survey. The other is research."

The survey includes the measurement of base lines, establishing fixed positions and correcting existing maps to get an accurate basis for all the other work. Until we started in 1960, there were only a few geodetic points as references.

"It includes survey of land, and in the last two years we've laid out 7,000 miles of accurate base line on Elles Ringnes Island, Borden Island, Brock Island and Prince Patrick Island (the outermost ring of islands, whose northern coastlines mark the edge of the permanent polar ice).

... POLAR SHELF

Quickly Vanish

"Now we're down to Banks Island (in the western Arctic). Frank Hunt, who's in charge of topographical survey work, will work back east from there. Then we'll start working east from Elles Ringnes to Ellesmere Island (farthest east of the major Canadian Arctic islands)."

In a land often devoid of identifiable landmarks as there are can disappear in seconds as a white-out closes in — there must be some highly accurate system of navigation. Without it, a pilot wouldn't stand a chance.

Weather stations such as Isachsen, Mould Bay on Prince Patrick Island, Eureka and Alert on Ellesmere and Resolute Bay, on Cornwallis Island, all have beacons on which aircraft can "home" by radio compass. The beacon transmits a steady signal and the radio compass needle stays on the beam it sends.

Hazardous Work

But how do you fly 200 miles out to sea — beyond portable beacon range — set up a gas cache (the first requirement for any field camp), then find your way back with the people who will man the camp and keep its beacon going?

How do you find a missing plane, down on the ice, if its pilot doesn't know his position? The magnetic compass is useless here; Isachsen is north of the magnetic pole.

How do you get accurate maps when even air photos are subject to inaccuracies?

That was one of the great problems the department of mines and technical surveys faced when it drew up the Polar Continental Shelf Project plan in 1958 and summoned Fred Roots back to Ottawa from a job on the Columbia icefields near Jasper to take charge.

Draws Road Map

The answer was Decca, a British navigation system which literally draws a road map for the pilot or the man taking observations.

Ideally employed, Decca consists of a "master" station and three "slave" stations, arranged around it in a triangle at a distance of about 70 miles from the master site.

These four stations produce a continuous wave of transmissions which overlap, creating a latticework of signals. The distance between these waves can be calculated and shown on a map; this map, in turn, is copied on a long strip map which is installed in an aircraft recorder, along with Decca receiving gear.

Traces Course

As the aircraft moves forward, the recorder traces its course atop the Decca map, on which are shown the intersecting lines which represent the ground transmissions. And once a pilot has flown from one point to another, he can do so again any time he wants to simply by following the ink line on the recorder's chart.

"With Decca," says Fred Roots, "we can fly a drum of gas 100 miles out onto the ice, leave it, and land a helicopter within 25 feet of the drum two days later."

To the mapmaker, Decca is a delight. One of the shelf's slave stations was installed on Elles Ringnes, this year.

One of the first things it proved was that Meighen Island, about 17 miles wide at its widest point, was located nine miles east of where it should be on the best maps then available.

Quick Start Promised After 75% School Win

School construction in rural Saanich District 63, approved by voters Saturday, will start in about six weeks, school board chairman Reginald Sinkinson, said today.

Ratepayers in the sprawling school district which takes in a part of Saanich, Central Saanich, Sidney and unorganized territory, voted overwhelmingly in favor of the $675,000 building bylaw.

The bylaw, defeated three times in the past two years, received a 75 per cent majority.

END OF SHIFTS

Mr. Sinkinson said the school construction program will bring to an end a shift system for more than 500 pupils in schools scattered throughout the district.

"The program will take care of our immediate needs," he said.

He was confident additional classrooms for 10 elementary schools will be ready by September.

BY FALL

On the proposed $340,000 high school on Wesley Road, he said there is a possibility it will be completed in time for school opening in fall.

"Completion of the schools is important," he said, "to prevent serious overcrowding this fall."

The vote on the school building program Saturday brought to an end extensive campaigns waged by anti and pro-bylaw groups.

The vote was 2,384 in favor and 811 against. Returning officer Gordon Hayward said about 40 per cent of some 7,600 eligible voters cast ballots.

The southern and more populous areas of the school district, where overcrowding in classes is serious, voted heavily in favor of the bylaw.

But the swing in favor of the building program was almost general throughout the district. Areas of Central Saanich, which at the time of the last bylaw voted against the building program, this time swung around.

The tallies from 13 polling stations are as follows: Cordova Bay, 838 yes, 89 no; Royal Oak, 481 yes, 89 no; Beaver Lake, 120 yes, 11 no; Prospect Lake, 117 yes, 37 no; Brentwood, 291 yes, 84 no; Esquimaux, 132 yes, 68 no; Saanichton, 95 yes, 55 no; Sansbury, 80 yes, 28 no; McFavish Road, 82 yes, 43 no; Deep Cove, 81 yes, 116 no; North Saanich, 73 yes, 60 no; Sidney school, 24 yes, 4 no; Sidney office, 276 yes, 135 no.

James Island, which has an elementary school for children of 45 families, was only permitted one vote as all property there belongs to Canadian Industries Ltd.

'Make Any Sacrifice' — Douglas

By FRANK RUTTER

Tommy Douglas Saturday publicly launched the New Party on "a great crusade" which he said would "lead Canada out of economic decadence, United States domination, distorted values and indecisive foreign policy."

These, he told 450 ardent supporters at a $10-a-plate banquet in the Empress Hotel, are the four goals of the New Party.

The crowd, which overflowed into the hall outside the Crystal Ballroom, gave him a standing ovation after his hour-and-three-quarter speech. And he gave a convincing impression that he will, despite his avowed reluctance, be the leader of the New Party.

"I personally would make any sacrifice and I would call on every person to make any sacrifice to send this New Party forward on a great crusade, on building a new and greater Canada," was his challenge.

'U.S. Protecting Vested Interests'

The Saskatchewan premier attacked the United States for protecting its vested interests in such nations as Cuba under the guise of fighting for democracy.

He called on Canada to assist such countries in what he called a worldwide social-revolution. He called on Canada to make "a maximum contribution for peace" in the nuclear age.

"There is no hiding place any more. The time has come for men and women to say 'An end to this madness!'"

And yet, he said, in "Canada itself: 'It is now becoming dangerous to stand for peace.'"

The National Committee on Radiation Hazards, he said, is being investigated by the RCMP.

"It has now become a subversive organization."

The year-old group is led by Dr. Hugh Kenleyside, former United Nations official, who now heads the B.C. Power Commission.

With two old-line parties (Liberal and Conservative) drawing closer to a right-wing ideology, he predicted: "Our danger will not be from black-shirted Fascism or brown-shirted Fascism—our danger will be from dress-shirted Fascism."

In Cuba, Fidel Castro had merely taken back the lands stolen by U.S. companies under the friendship of former dictator Batista, although Castro could not be described as democratic, he said.

The U.S. had intervened "to make the world safe for the United Fruit Co. and Standard Oil Co."

"We should have been saying to Mr. Kennedy 'Neither you, Mr. Kennedy, nor anyone else has the right to interfere with the internal affairs of any country in the western hemisphere!'"

Workers' Rights 'Chipped Away'

But Canada is falling under the economic and military domination of the U.S. And he said, Canada's old-line parties are drifting into the same political climate, which has not progressed since the days of Franklin Roosevelt.

"They have gone back; we could go back."

Already, he said, the rights of working people have been "chipped away" in such provinces as B.C. and Newfoundland. Government had fallen so much under the control of business that it would not matter which party held office.

The first step economically, he said, was to change from a nation producing surpluses which unemployed people couldn't afford, to a nation where everyone has a job and purchasing power for the goods they produce.

Jobs would be created by the New Party as well to provide social commodities and services—roads, hospitals, schools—he said.

The first goal for social reform, he said, should be a guaranteed standard of living through a comprehensive social security system.

This would include a labor code, guaranteed wage, health insurance, sickness benefits, and portable pensions with government, employers and employees each contributing.

"We're not going to get this kind of system in Canada until we elect a government interested in human welfare, not profits of the vested few."

The society of his New Party vision would need, he said, a new sense of values.

'Obsessed With Material Things'

More money is spent on advertising, alcohol, tobacco and gambling than health and welfare, said Mr. Douglas.

"We have a society today that which is increasingly obsessed with material things," he said. "There must be recognition of the things of the mind and spirit."

The quest for these new goals, said Mr. Douglas, had united labor and the CCF to-day just as it had in England at the turn of the century. He saw in the New Party a group which could achieve the type of welfare state in Britain for which he gave credit to the Labor Party.

The CCF premier, only five feet six, stood on a raised platform at the banquet table so he could see his audience.

On his own a quiet, slight man, once in public both words and stature seemed to grow.

His speech drew an overflow of 50 more than the 400 guests expected: Even the smooth kitchens of the Empress were defeated, and ran out of food.

Organizers of the affair said it raised $3,000 for the campaign of Glen Hamilton, the Esquimalt-Saanich byelection candidate, who also spoke briefly calling on the New Party to "do something for the spirit of man as well as his body."

Among head table guests were provincial CCF leader Robert Strachan and Jack Sturdy, former member of Mr. Douglas' Saskatchewan cabinet, who now lives here.

Earlier Saturday 250 people filled the Douglas CCF Hall to hear the Saskatchewan premier speak at a hand-shake rally.

Pentecostal Sect Members Jailed

MOSCOW (Reuters) — A Soviet court at nearby Drezna has ordered jail sentences totalling 30 years for six members of a Pentecostal sect active around Moscow, Pravda said Sunday.

The Communist party newspaper said the six were charged with organizing and taking part in "illegal gatherings with savage customs encouraging people to violence and psychological diseases which are a direct violation of Soviet legality."

5,000 SCHOOL TEACHERS ON STRIKE AT GLASGOW

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — More than 5,000 Glasgow school teachers began a one-week strike today, seeking an 18-per-cent pay increase and protesting the lowering of standards of new teachers.

The strike left only 1,400 teachers to take care of 150,000 children. The city council advised most of the children to stay home.

Reluctant Peer Barred at Door

LONDON (Reuters) — Anthony Wedgwood Benn, Britain's "reluctant peer," failed today in his first bid to take the House of Commons seat he won in a byelection last week.

Benn, or Viscount Stansgate as he is officially known, tried to enter the House of Commons chamber to present his certificate of election as a Labor member but was refused admission by a doorkeeper.

The official said he was acting on the instructions of the speaker, Sir Harry Hylton-Foster.

In a vote last month, the Commons ruled that Benn no longer was one of its members and could not renounce the seat in the House of Lords he inherited on the death of his father last year.

BOY SURVIVES 90-FOOT FALL

U.S. MAN IN ORBIT 'BEFORE END OF YEAR'

OSLO (AP) — State Secretary Dean Rusk told NATO foreign ministers today the United States intends to get a manned satellite into orbit before the end of the year. His remarks in a closed meeting were relayed later to reporters.

Rusk was quoted as saying the U.S. now is working "on very considerable projects" to reach the moon, Mars and Venus.

Berlin Threat To Grow Worse

NATO Warned Communist Menace

(CP from AP-Reuters)

OSLO, Norway — Dirk U. Stikker, new secretary-general of NATO, warned the 15-nation Western alliance today that the Communist threat to Berlin may assume "new proportions and a new immediacy" this year.

Addressing the opening session of a three-day meeting of NATO foreign ministers, Stikker declared the Soviet threat "even reaches into outer space."

"What it may at times have lost in brutality, it has gained in subtlety and resourcefulness," he said.

The threat was not solely military. It was just as much political, economic, scientific, psychological and propagandist.

He warned of a possible new threat to Berlin this year and said NATO was "deeply concerned at the situation in the Congo, Laos and Cuba."

Stikker said NATO could meet the Communist challenge if its members made "those sacrifices, individual and collective, which in the past have been the price of greatness and which today are the price of peace."

"I am happy to say that our most powerful ally, the United States, under the vigorous leadership of President Kennedy, has again and again affirmed its determination to give reinvigorated leadership to our alliance," he said.

The chairman of the opening session, Portuguese Foreign Minister Dr. Alberto Franco Nogueira, also stressed the need for Western vigilance against Russia.

State Secretary Dean Rusk of the United States was set to ask members to bolster the alliance through increased cooperation and more non-nuclear forces.

Stikker said Sunday night: "If more mobile and effective conventional forces are at the disposal of NATO, there will be less likelihood that nuclear weapons ever will have to be used."

Objective, 30 Combat Divisions

The agreed target for NATO is 30 combat-ready divisions deployed on the mainland of Europe. This has never been attained.

The alliance now is credited with having 20 divisions. But that figure has probably been reduced by transfer of French units to Algeria and Portuguese troops to rebellious Angola.

As the delegates to the conference assembled, Rusk and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville met at dinner with British Foreign Secretary Lord Home to coordinate policies they will pursue at the 14-nation conference on Laos scheduled to open in Geneva Friday.

The three ministers and External Affairs Minister Green of Canada will go from the Oslo meeting to Geneva.

State Secretary Dean Rusk of the United States promised his country would insist on maintaining the present legal status of Berlin and would guarantee the West's access and position there.

He declared that if Russia

signed a separate peace treaty with East Germany, as it has threatened several times, it would constitute a violation of existing agreements.

The secretary of state said he had little hope of any agreement being reached at the three-power conference in Geneva on banning nuclear tests because of Soviet obstruction and new demands. However, the United States would continue its efforts to reach agreement.

Rusk also asked the NATO members to bolster the alliance through increased cooperation and beefed-up non-nuclear forces.

Several hours before the NATO ministers convened, a group of Norwegians, Danish, West German and British opponents of nuclear weapons began a round-the-clock demonstration outside police headquarters, well out of sight of the NATO meeting place.

The marchers carried placards reading "NATO must not become a nuclear power" and "No further spreading of nuclear weapons."

NEW CONGO CRISIS FEARED

Treason Charge For Tshombe

United Press International COQUILLATVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — The Central Congolese government's move to charge Katanga President Moïse Tshombe with high treason threatened today to touch off a wave of bloodletting and sabotage in the Southeast Congo.

Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko announced Sunday that Tshombe, a prisoner here for two weeks, would be tried on such charges as the assassination of former Premier Patrice Lumumba, counterfeiting, rebellion and theft of central government money and arms.

The move was expected to have an electric effect in Katanga where tension already was high between United Nations forces and Tshombe's 5,000-man army led by white officers.

Saturday in Elisabethville that "vain sacrifices and useless massacres" would follow any interference in Katangese affairs.

Informed sources said the Katanga government was considering destruction of vital dams, communications centres and other strategic points if there were further attempts by the central government of President Joseph Kasavubu to bring Katanga under the Leopoldville regime.

Despite this, Malayan UN troops were reported threatening to arrest 100 British and South African mercenaries at the North Katanga railway junction unless they voluntarily left the Congo.

A UN security council resolution of Feb. 21 demanded that foreigners leave Congolese civil and military service. Tshombe's government not only has refused to expel them but has forced many to remain who tried to leave.

GOODIES IN BUDGET—LA MARSH

'Tories Plan to Buy' Byelection Victory

By FRANK RUTTER
See also Pages 3, 30

The Conservative government was accused today of planning to "buy" the voters of Esquimalt-Saanich through announcements by visiting cabinet ministers and through "goodies" in the federal budget expected shortly before the by-election.

Liberal MP Judy La Marsh of Niagara Falls said here the federal budget is expected only a few days before the vote.

"When you realize the timing, they can throw almost anything in," she said.

"I have no doubt one of the cabinet ministers coming out here in the next week or so is going to attempt to buy this riding."

Miss La Marsh arrived today with Senator John Connolly, president of the National Liberal Federation.

SPEAKS TONIGHT
She speaks tonight for Liberal candidate David Groos at 8 in St. Andrew's Church Hall, Sidney.

This week the campaign has suddenly swung into high speed after the New Party rally of Saskatchewan Premier Tommy Douglas.

That the by-election here May 29 is regarded as a national issue is borne out by the "guest list" lined up for the next three weeks.

National Liberal leader Lester B. Pearson and top Liberals such as Paul Hellyer and Paul Martin are coming to speak for Mr. Groos.

Trade Minister George Hees, Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton and Veterans Affairs Minister Gordon Churchill are coming for the Tories.

The word is that Mr. Churchill has "three announcements" of local importance to make, when he speaks on behalf of George Chatterton.

BENNETT READY

Premier Bennett is scheduled to join the campaign for Sacred George Hahn May 19 with the first of two speeches, and all his cabinet ministers have been instructed to throw full support behind their candidate.

For Glen Hamilton of New Party, at least one more visitor is expected—the party's sole MP, Walter Pitman of Peterborough.

Sen. Connolly said the overriding issue of this by-election and the three others on the same date in Eastern Canada is the Tory government's record.

BIG CHANCE

"It's as key a by-election as a by-election can be," he said. For the Liberals it offers an opportunity to win its first seat west of the Great Lakes.

"I'd like to get at the government's coat under-belly from the west," he said.

Failure to act on unemployment, on easing international trade, and to avoid huge budget deficits at home were major issues, said the senator.

JUDY LA MARSH
...realize the timing

Said Miss La Marsh of the Conservatives: "They seem to have the feeling all you have to do is be elected and sit back for four years."

INEPTITUDE

Of Prime Minister Diefenbaker: "There has never been such a skyrocket in history." Yet in office, he and the Tories have shown "complete ineptitude."

She said people must be getting fed-up with such perennial government promises as a new Pat Bay airport.

"I think Canadians get sick at the stomach at this sort of thing," she said.

'Earlier Flight Was Possible'

(Times News Services)

WASHINGTON — America's first space traveller received a medal and the country's thanks from President Kennedy today.

Kennedy honored 37-year-old navy commander Alan Shepard in a White House ceremony.

The president remarked that with everybody looking on, America was risking much to gain from last Friday's space shot.

Shepard, his wife and the six men he beat out for the honor of being the first American in space, flew to the White House by helicopter from an air force base in Maryland. The astronauts came from Grand Bahama Island where Shepard had been under observation after his history-making feat.

Later, at a televised press conference, Shepard said his flight will encourage him and his associates to press on with the program of exploration.

"All in all, we were very much pleased with the flight, very much encouraged, and we intend to press ahead with the program."

He said the possibility of speeding up Friday's flight from Cape Canaveral "because of other events"—possibly a reference to the Soviet man in space accomplishment—was considered but not all the speed-up was adopted.

Agrees With Scheduling of Program

The flight could have been made "a lot earlier." But he added that the astronauts were in complete agreement with the way the program was scheduled. It was a "reliable" program.

Shepard said he was surprised that the liftoff for the flight was as smooth as it was.

"I had expected more noise and more vibration... It was a very pleasant liftoff."

He said he controlled the re-entry of the vehicle into the earth's atmosphere.

He said he had been pretty well briefed about what to expect in space but when he actually looked through the periscope, "I have to admit it took my breath away. It was a beautiful sight."

Shepard said the flight built up to 11 Gs—eleven times the force of gravity—before the pressure eased off on the downward trip.

He was asked whether he experienced exhilaration or apprehension at any point.

"Well, I must say there was some apprehension, yes. All the flyers went into this with our eyes open. But all realized that something could go wrong."

"The exhilaration I felt was when we landed."

Asked how much of the earth's surface he had seen, Shepard said part of his view was obscured by clouds coming from the northwest. He said the distance of vision, using the periscope and measuring from the capsule to the horizon, was 800 miles.

Tests Tougher Than Actual Flight

Questioned as to whether the experience affected his vision or caused other physical malfunctions, Shepard said that even in tests in which astronauts had been subjected to far greater gravity stress than in actual flight, there had been no bad effects.

"Our flight was well below those maximums."

Shepard was asked to comment on the differences between his flight and that of Soviet astronaut Yuri Gagarin, who orbited the earth.

He said he would rather not comment because the astronauts were so involved in their own flight—that they didn't have time to study the data on Gagarin's flight, except what was available in the newspapers.

Replying to another question about the Soviet orbital flight, Shepard said all the astronauts were disappointed when Gagarin was the first man to go into space.

Did the publicity on the project cause any extra burdens?

"Yes, I think it did but we all think it was worth it."

Other questions and answers:

Q—Did you encounter anything different from what you were led to expect during training?

A—It was very, very close to what was predicted... I wasn't uncomfortable or embarrassed in any way."

Q—How did you feel during the flight?

Guilty plea to charge of second-degree perjury was entered today by Mrs. Vivienne Nearing in connection with rigging of defunct TV quiz show Twenty-One. "I think this defendant has suffered enough," said Judge William Ringel in suspending sentence.

He Cut Out His Own Appendix

MOSCOW (AP) — A young Soviet physician, marooned by a blizzard at the Novo-Lazarev research station in the Antarctic, removed his own appendix in surgery lasting almost two hours, Tass said today. He was reported recovering and able to walk again.

The Soviet news agency said Dr. Leonid Rogozov, 26, was struck by acute appendicitis April 30 and realized an operation was urgent. Using a mirror, he cut into his own abdomen that night, Tass said.

The dispatch made no mention of anaesthesia and said Rogozov performed the operation, "in spite of severe pain," with the help of a mechanic and a meteorologist.

The 12-man station is located on the Queen Astrid coast, several hundred miles from the main Soviet Antarctic base at Mirny. The weather prevented any attempt at flying Rogozov to Mirny.

Laos Cease-Fire 'Falling Apart'

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) —

Members of the International Control Commission arrived today to verify the Laotian cease-fire which seemed in danger of falling apart under renewed Communist military attacks and demands made on the pro-Western government.

Truce talks between the two sides broke up for the fourth successive time without agreement at the front line truce village of Bin Heup.

A short time later, four American-made Harvard fighter planes, armed with rockets, took off from the Vientiane airport. Ground personnel at the airport told reporters the planes were flying to attack Communist positions at Vang Vieng, 65 miles north of here. There was no confirmation of this from other sources.

The first control commission contingent to arrive consisted of three Canadians, four Poles and 14 Indians. One group will operate from here, and another from Xieng Khouang, "capital" of the neutralist regime of Souvanna Phouma in Communist-held territory.

Samar Sen of India, chairman of the commission, said

Sun Sets Oct. 23, Rises Feb. 15

(Special to The Times)

ISACHSEN, N.W.T. — The Arctic community of Isachsen (permanent population, nine men and one dog) sits on the west coast of Ellef Ringnes Island, 850 miles south of the North Pole, on a cove unofficially designated as Hole-In-The-Fog Bay.

It bears the name of Guinar Isachsen, geographer with the Sverdrup Expedition of 1899-1904, who discovered and explored the island. "And until 1959, Isachsen had one reason for existence; it was a Joint Arctic Weather Station."

Isn't seen again until Feb. 15. There's a month of deep twilight after Oct. 23, and the darkness eases a bit in January. And by June each year, Isachsen is starting to warm up a bit, heading for peak temperatures of about 55 above in July.

Always Canadian

Its 4,800-foot-long airstrip was built by U.S. Army engineers. Canada and the U.S. split at cost and the personnel, but the ninth man, the officer in charge, is always a Canadian.

The sun sets over Isachsen, on the average, Oct. 23 and isn't seen again until Feb. 15. There's a month of deep twilight after Oct. 23, and the darkness eases a bit in January. And by June each year, Isachsen is starting to warm up a bit, heading for peak temperatures of about 55 above in July.

This March, Isachsen had four days in a row where the mercury never topped 40 below and the wind speed never dropped below 40 m.p.h. There are no wind chill figures available to interpret that rate of cooling.

The ice of Prince Gustav

Adolph Sea, to the south and west, does break up. But because of the winds which lash Isachsen summer and winter, driving the ice before them, supply ships can't get into Hole-in-the-Fog Bay. Everything must come by air from

Recovery Displays Strength

By JACK LEFLER
NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. business tempo quickened on a broad front last week.

Confidence soared that the economy definitely was on the upgrade, from what some described as the shallowest depression in U.S. history.

There was much concrete evidence of better performance in many segments of business. It included: Rising automobile sales, increased steel production, a decline in unemployment, an improvement in sales of major appliances, a gain in manufacturers' new orders and sales, and an increase in installment credit.

A survey of purchasing agents showed the biggest percentage improvement in new orders for any month since September, 1958.

The steel industry was scheduled for its eighth consecutive weekly increase in production. Last week, the latest for which figures were available, the output climbed 4.1 per cent over the previous week.

The metalworking trade publication, Iron Age, said "the improvement, while healthy, is gradual" and "steelmen apparently feel their first real confidence."

CAR SALES UP

Industry-wide production jumped to the highest weekly total of the year—an estimated 126,000 cars compared with 114,529 last week of the previous year.

The number of unemployed declined in April but was mainly seasonal. This left the number of idle at 4,962,000. Employment rose by 218,000 to 65,734,000.

The Kennedy administration won a big victory when Congress passed a compromise bill to increase the minimum wage and broaden the law's coverage.

The legislation means for the 23,000,000 workers already covered by the wage-hour law an increase in the hourly minimum to $1.15 from $1.04 four months after the president signs it, and to $1.25 two years after that.

JFK Fights Import Controls

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy is seeking by all means possible to avoid the need of imposing United States import curbs on textiles.

Canada is reported to be sympathetic to his new approach.

High U.S. authorities said that instead of acceding to domestic pressure for import controls, Kennedy will concentrate on getting such countries as West Germany and France to increase their imports from low-range producers.

At the same time he will urge such producers as South Korea, Hong Kong, India, Pakistan and Formosa to show voluntary restraint in their exports to prevent huge surpluses from clogging world markets. Japan already operates under such restraints.

To some extent, Canada faces the same problem as the U.S.

Low-priced imports from the Far East are threatening to absorb an increasing share of the Canadian as well as the U.S. markets, raising strong protests from domestic industries.

Rolls-Royce Co. May Drop Out Of Car Business

LONDON (UPI)—The chairman of the Rolls-Royce Company has warned that the firm may go out of the car business unless British tax restrictions were changed.

The new British budget limits income tax deductions to cars costing less than $5,000. The Rolls-Royce and Bentley cars, cost three to five times that here.

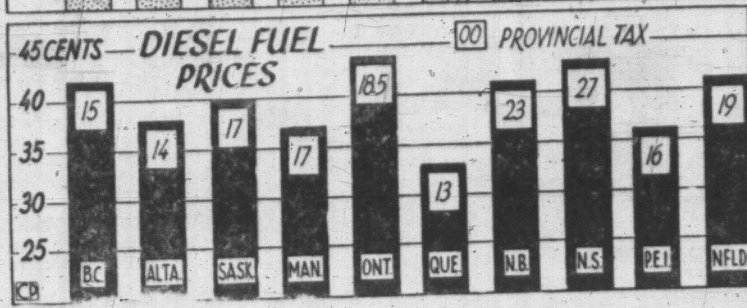

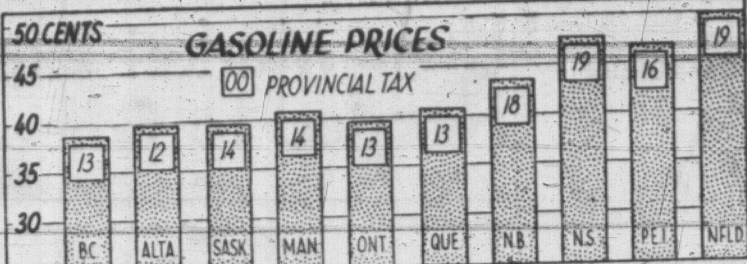

Lord Keadarley has told British MPs the budget may mean the eventual end of Rolls-Royce car production.

It was understood that British orders for the cars have dropped off by 75 per cent in the past two weeks.

$500,000 Pipeline Proposed by Royalite

CALGARY (CP)—Royalite Oil Co. Ltd. has asked the Alberta oil and gas conservation board for the right to build a $500,000 pipeline system leading to the Calgary refining area.

The total system would be 12 miles long, and 14.7 miles of the line would be existing pipeline owned by the company. It would carry natural gas and condensate, both by-products of natural gas processing, from the Wildcat Hills and jumping Pound Fields to the west of Calgary.

PRICES COMPARED—Despite recent increases in provincial taxes, gasoline prices generally are lower in western Canada than in the Maritimes. However, there is no geographical pattern for motive diesel fuel prices. Graphs compare average prices and tax in each province for regular gasoline and diesel fuel. Premium gasoline is about five cents higher. Provincial tax is shown by boxed figures. (CP Newsmag.)

BUSINESS VIEWS

Rumblings of Discontent

By GORDON BELL, Times Business Editor

A few short weeks ago a highly-placed government official gave a private opinion that renewal of major labor contracts in key B.C. industries was going to be affected with little difficulty or strife.

The only awkward spot he could see at that time was in the fishing where the United Fishermen and Allied Workers were making noises which hinted at strike possibilities.

Now there are rumblings of discontent coming out of the forest industries and no one is so sure any longer the IWA will settle along lines which the forest industry firms consider reasonable, nor that the firms will settle with the IWA on grounds which the union might believe reasonable.

There was a rough edge to the tongue of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Company president J. V. Cline, when he took after high labor costs in B.C. in his address to company shareholders recently.

And there was a sardonic jeering note in the answer given by IWA western region President Joe Morris claiming that it was high salaries paid to men like Mr. Cline that had contributed most to the higher cost of B.C. products.

This isn't the stuff of which industry-labor peace is made and, combined with reports of growing tension between management and union representatives at lower levels, could be the indicator of another bad year in the forests.

Under the circumstances it is rather ironic to read a paragraph from the latest report on B.C. market conditions prepared by the Purchasing Agents' Association which says:

"Balanced judgments relative to present economic conditions, the state of industry and the results on future business must be arrived at without discord. There is no place in the present economy for a major labor dispute."

Difficulty is that there seldom is a place in the economy for major disputes, but that doesn't stop them from taking place.

Fortunately the sparse reports available at this stage of the negotiations in the construction industry seem to be a little more encouraging.

In this area of the economy at least the chance of getting by without trouble still seems to be bright.

WEEK ON MARKETS

Big Increase In Volume Highlight

By JOHN BELANGER, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Highlight of last week's stock market action was the increase in volume over last week's figures—more than 10,000,000 shares.

Volume was 21,260,000 shares, while the week before the exchange turned over 13,664,000. On Wednesday, more than 6,000,000 shares changed hands, a record that goes back to March of 1959.

The ticker tape ran up to six minutes late during some sessions. Mines were especially active, the base metals index reaching new heights, while the dollar value of some sessions ran over $15,000,000.

The industrial index continued its seven-month upward drive by gaining eight points on the week. Utilities were strong, and almost all issues came out to trade. Dozens of stocks reached new highs, notably Bell Telephone.

In the banks, a high was reached by Montreal, while Nova Scotia Commerce, Imperial and Toronto Dominion all advanced. Other financial institutions did well, with high being hit by Argus Corporation, Industrial Acceptance Corporation and Traders Finance A.

Steel, foods, motors, refining oils and papers all moved ahead strongly.

BASE METALS ADVANCE

In senior-base metals, strong advances were made by Falconbridge, International Nickel and Hudson Bay, all reaching highs, while Opemiska, Ventures and Noranda duplicated the feat. Uranium did well with Lorado, Gunbar and Parady all active and reaching new tops.

There was a great deal of trading in the speculative mining issues, with no definite pattern being set. Copper issues rose sharply on the basis of better prices in world markets.

In western oils, losses predominated. Sapphire turned over more than 430,000 shares to become the week's most active oil, while gains went to National Petroleum and Okalta.

Gold trading was light and produced no significant change in any of the major issues.

Japanese OK Bethlehem Deal

H. H. Huestis, president of Bethlehem Copper Company, advised the B.C. superintendent of brokers today that the Japanese government has approved the financing plan by Japanese interests of the B.C. firm's property in the Highland Valley area.

The Japanese are advancing funds to bring the property into production and will purchase the output over a term of years. Details of the arrangement were announced some weeks ago, but were subject to ratification by the Japanese government.

B.C. Forest Profits Drop

B.C. Forest Products Ltd. 194 as compared to $3,944,318 in 1960.

Sales also showed a falling off with $23,620,151 for the last six months as against $25,668,317 last year.

Share earnings for the six-month period were 33 cents as past six months was $2.16, against 58 cents in 1960.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Sharp Upswing In Heavy Trade

Heavy trading this afternoon saw prices rise sharply on Canadian markets in industrials, base metals and western oils.

Wall Street, still under the heady influence of the "man in space" achievement sent electronic and missile shares up in an otherwise erratic market.

AT TORONTO Distillers Sea-grams and Rothmans both rose 1/4 at 13 1/4, and 3 1/4 while Great Lakes Paper had a similar gain to 49 1/4.

Mining trading was heavy. Consolidated Mining and Smelting rose 1/4 at 25 1/4, and Denison was ahead 21 cents to $9.75.

Gold trading was light while in steady western oil trading, Calgary and Edmonton and Home A rose 1/4 to 17 1/4 and 10 1/4.

AT MONTREAL base metals led other selections fractionally higher this afternoon in moderately active trading.

Mines traded actively with minor gains while base metals advanced as major U.S. producers reported buying was at an excellent pace.

Western oils gained fractionally. Royalty at $9 and Cent Del Rio at $6.90, both added 15 cents and Pacific Petroleum added 1/4 at 12 1/2.

AT NEW YORK McDonnell Aircraft, prime contractor for the Yukon, and Northwest Territories and for Canadians abroad, including armed forces, showed an unbroken pattern of increase for each of the four years starting in 1957.

The figures by area, with 1959 totals in brackets:

Newfoundland $393,000,000 ($373,000,000); Prince Edward Island $100,000,000 ($93,000,000); Nova Scotia $851,000,000 ($814,000,000); New Brunswick $621,000,000 ($580,000,000); Quebec $6,684,000,000 ($6,404,000,000); Ontario $11,097,000,000 ($10,700,000,000); Manitoba $1,372,000,000 ($1,339,000,000); Saskatchewan $1,318,000,000 ($1,184,000,000); Alberta $2,018,000,000 ($1,958,000,000); British Columbia $2,901,000,000 ($2,782,000,000); Yukon and Northwest Territories $48,000,000 ($44,000,000); foreign countries $57,000,000 ($48,000,000).

For the same period Canadian corporations showed profits before taxes of $3,200,000,000, the bureau reported.

The figure was down 6 per cent from 1959's profits of $3,401,000,000.

The bureau said the decline was "fairly common" among all industries. Mining, quarrying, oil wells, financial services and public utilities, however, went against the general trend, and showed increased profits over the previous year.

Total manufacturing profits were down 11 per cent with the sharpest decline occurring in iron and steel. Higher costs and some price declines cut wholesale and retail trade profits "substantially" from a year earlier.

Blasts Blamed On 'Conspiracy'

Extra Police Ordered To Kootenay

Bombings in Doukhobor country are not regarded by the B.C. government as religious protests but a criminal conspiracy, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today.

He was commenting on last Friday's bomb incidents in the Kootenays.

Mr. Bonner said the government is prepared to do whatever the RCMP advises to stamp out violence there. Extra police went into the area over the weekend.

SOBSISTERS
"We regard it simply as a criminal conspiracy," he said. "The sobsisters have made the excuse in the past that it has been motivated by religious principles. I don't know of any group in which dynamiting has been regarded as religious motivation."

Mr. Bonner received a wire from Trail Mayor Leslie A. Read saying the Kootenay people "are disgusted at the half-hearted manner in which the government is treating the acts of violence and terrorism."

The attorney-general said such comments are "based on lack of information."

"There is nothing half-hearted about the steps we have taken to investigate and determine responsibility for the events of last Friday."

ACTION PLEDGED
"Any request the police make for further measures will be acted upon by the B.C. government," said Mr. Bonner. "We have always followed the recommendations of the police. And we have asked that all additional people be made available."

Six RCMP officers were flown to Nelson this weekend, and another 10 constables are expected in the area shortly to aid investigations.

Top Official To Clarify Labor Status

Status of organized labor in Victoria with relation to the New Party is expected to be clarified in a meeting here next week with national labor official George Home.

Mr. Home, director of political education in the Canadian Labor Congress—pledged to support the New Party—will speak and answer questions at a gathering of local labor representatives in the labor hall at 7:30 p.m. May 19.

The meeting is advertised by Victoria Labor Council, representing about 8,000 unionists in the area, as an important one and all local union officers, members of political education committees and other union members are being urged to attend.

LOST CHAIRMAN
The council's own political education committee lost its chairman with disaffiliation of International Woodworkers of America, which criticized lack of direct political action on New Party policy.

Since then, a committee of volunteers headed by stand-in chairman William Gauld, Vancouver Island representative of the CLC, has been authorized to accept donations to the New Party, independent of Victoria Labor Council.

ASK The TIMES

Q. Could you please tell me how long Maurice Richard played for Montreal Canadiens and what was his goal average per game? J. C.

A. The "Rocket" played 18 National Hockey League seasons with the Canadiens, appearing in 978 league games and 133 playoff games. He scored 344 goals in regular-season games and 82 goals in playoffs, an average of 3545 goals per game.

Q. I've noticed wild watercress growing along the Cadboro Bay waterfront. Can it be picked? G. S.

A. There are no regulations against picking wild watercress. It grows rapidly.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along in The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. $6 Tax Hike Now In Sight For City

Final Tally Made To Cut Expenses

City council today was to make a final effort to cut back, a potential $10 tax increase for the average home-owner to about $6.

A searching appraisal to find even pennies that could be cut from the budget was scheduled in an effort to slice a little more from the $55-million figure reached Friday after a complete examination of the estimates.

That's up 2 1/2 mills from last year's level. Although one mill means only $4.50 to the average taxpayer, it adds up to a total of about $95,000 in taxation for the whole city.

"We've just got to cut down the estimates further," said an anxious Mayor Percy Scourrah today. "We just can't go for a 2 1/2 mill increase."

NO CHANCE
The mayor said he saw no possibility of cutting back the mill rate to last year's level without "a very definite deterioration to the services."

"But I do hope we can take another mill off today before striking the 1961 rate."

"However, it remains to be seen whether or not it can be done."

Prime targets for any further cutting could be: the city's contingency fund; a $50,000 winter works program; two comfort stations at Gonzales Beach and Stadacona Park; a $10,000 program of re-wiring and installing new laundry equipment in the Mountain View Home for aged men; a $9,800 system of electronic traffic signal controls for fire trucks; and a $2,500 matching grant fund to encourage playground development.

B.C. Electric has applied to the four Greater Victoria municipalities—which granted it exclusive franchises for operating a transit service—for consent to the changes. If approved, the new system will go into operation Aug. 1.

BACKED BY HOUSE
Its main objective—to halt spread of nuclear weapons and urge disarmament—was endorsed unanimously by the B.C. legislature, he added.

"I find it difficult to believe the RCMP is making a serious investigation."

"There's probably just some misguided initiative on the part of some junior official in the staff," he added.

It was learned that in Regina there are reports that an RCMP officer was questioning neighbors of people who had taken part in a demonstration against nuclear weapons there.

Mr. Douglas addressed the crowd which marched to the provincial legislature.

A similar reaction to Mr. Douglas' charge came from Rabbi Abraham Feinberg, chairman of the Toronto Committee for Disarmament, affiliated to Dr. Keenleyside's group.

He said he would be "surprised and shocked" if there were any investigation.

Power Boatmen Elect Officers At Maple Bay
J. Courtney Haddock, Victoria, was elected Sunday as district commander of the six Vancouver Island Power Squadrons which met on the weekend at Maple Bay.

Other officers elected, all by acclamation, were Kenneth Guest, Nanaimo, vice-commander; John Gieve, Maple Bay, training officer; Howard Tyrrell, Nanaimo, treasurer; and Ernest Harding, Nanaimo, secretary.

Victor W. Griffin, Victoria, is past district commander.

Nanaimo squadron trophy for the "man overboard" contest was won by Jack Phillips of the Cowichan squadron. It was presented by Alex Neville, Port Credit, Ont., national commander of Canadian Power Squadrons.

TRAFFIC FINES
In city police court today: Derek Hamilton, Orchard, 1551 Sawyer, $25, over 30.

Arthur Kenward, 3045 Shelbourne, $20, over 30.

Victor R. Waring, Whaletown, $20, over 30.

Robert R. Copley, 4280 Carey Road, $15, failing to give a traffic signal.

SEASONAL OPENING DAY of Royal Victoria Yacht Club took place on weekend when Commodore L. E. Horne aboard "Fax" reviewed yachts in sail-past. 20-Shop 'Plaza' Esquimalt Plan

Chain Store, Big Parking Space Featured in Project Near Arena

Esquimalt council will be asked tonight to approve plans for a new shopping centre on Esquimalt Road.

If the go-ahead is given, an area adjoining the new $400,000 ice-sports arena likely will blossom into a contemporary, landscaped "plaza."

A spokesman for Capital Holdings Ltd., who specialize in shopping centre development, today said the Esquimalt plan calls for a plaza comprising 20 shopping units—including a chain store—and parking space with accommodation for 160 cars.

17 OTHERS
Capital Holdings, he said, has developed or is developing 17 similar centres west of the Great Lakes.

After its regular meeting tonight, Esquimalt council will go into committee in an effort to get the 1961 budget "wrapped up."

Reeve A. C. Wurtele said during the weekend one of the major causes for delay in striking the mill rate is a mix-up over council obtaining a "nest egg" of $180,000.

"That was the sum paid by the federal government to the municipality last year in lieu of school taxes."

NEW LAW
In the past the money has always been applied to the following year's school taxes. But new legislation passed at the last session of the House deals only with current grants.

Reeve Wurtele said there is no authority in the new legislation to dispose of grants for last year.

Delayed Exam Decision Due By Next Week
Victoria College student John Hart, forced to miss writing his final examinations after he was beaten up and thrown into the sea by hoodlums, has not given up hope.

A meeting of the faculty of the college will decide next week whether the 20-year-old Nanaimo student will be allowed to write examinations in August. This would give him his year's standing in spite of the fact that after-effects of the beating left him unable to write his examinations last month as scheduled.

Hart was walking along Esplanade, in Oak Bay, not far from his Victoria residence, at about 1:10 a.m. on Thursday, April 13, when two young men got out of a parked car saying "Here is someone who wants to go in the water."

He was beaten unconscious and did not find his way home until after 3 a.m.

Young Girl Hurt When Car Hit From Behind
A rear-end car collision in Central Saanich Sunday sent a young girl to Royal Jubilee Hospital with face and head injuries.

Nine-year-old Donna Gregory was knocked unconscious for a short time by the impact when a car, driven by Morag Symington, 909A Bank Street, collided with the rear of a car driven by Garry Politano, 3815 Wilkinson. The child's head hit the windshield.

She was released after treatment at the hospital.

Police said the accident occurred at 4:45 p.m. on the Patricia Bay Highway near the Keating Crossroad intersection.

DR. BOETTCHER ... to Hartford

U.S. Position For Hospital Administrator

Dr. Ernest N. Boettcher, medical superintendent of St. Joseph's Hospital since 1956, has been appointed associate executive director of Hartford Hospital at Hartford, Connecticut. This is a great honor for Dr. Boettcher which reflects credit on his work for St. Joseph's, a spokesman said.

"His new position carries extensive responsibility for the entire internal operation of the Hartford Hospital."

STARTS IN AUGUST
Dr. Boettcher will work under the guidance of executive director Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton who is known across the continent as an outstanding hospital administrator.

He will take up his new duties in August.

Formerly administrative assistant at Toronto General Hospital, Dr. Boettcher was appointed medical superintendent of St. Joseph's Hospital in September, 1956.

He is a graduate of the Universities of Alberta and Toronto and interned at Vancouver and Hamilton general hospitals. He holds a diploma in hospital administration and is a bachelor of science as well as a doctor of medicine.

CAMPAINED
During the past year Dr. Boettcher has been active in a public appeal for $250,000 to complete financing of a $2,500,000 building program for St. Joseph's Hospital.

He is president of the Community Welfare Council of Greater Victoria, first vice-president of the B.C. Hospital Association and a prominent campaigner for the Community Chest.

INDIAN SHOW SCORES

5,000 Cheer 'Mermaid' Win

A crowd estimated at 5,000 jammed the beach at Tsartlip Indian Reserve Sunday afternoon for the annual program of sports and Indian dances sponsored by Saanich Indian Recreation Commission.

Highlight of the day was a race for 11-man war canoes, won for the second consecutive year by "Mermaid" of Galiano Island.

"Skipped by Johnny Crocker, the sleek racer covered the 3 1/2-mile course in 19 minutes to win the Bishop Hill perpetual trophy."

In second place was "Our Lady of Guadalupe," representing the sponsoring recreation commission, and skippered by Arnold Sylvester.

Skipper Arnold Joe of Duncan brought "Mount Prevost" into third place in the 12-boat race.

There was only one casualty. While making the turn near Senanus Island the new "Prince Charles" from Nanaimo sliced the prow off "Lady Esther" of Saanich.

The damaged boat was knocked out of competition but the crew was able to bring it safely to shore.

Education Minister Leslie Peterson opened the program, and congratulated the commission on its program, which started at 1:30 p.m. and continued until after 6 p.m.

There were races for single and two-man canoes, and a long series of native Indian dances. Victoria Reef Rovers put on an exhibition of Scuba diving, and music during the program was provided by the Kuper Island Indian Residential School.

Prior to the opening, the North Saanich High School band played for an hour for the early arrivals.

SOLD OUT
The Indians in charge of the event had barbecued 250 pounds of salmon, but were sold out in two hours.

"We'll have more next year," said Chief Don Williams of Saanich No. 3 Reserve, commission chairman and master of ceremonies for the day.

Weather threatened early in the afternoon, and there were a few drops of rain, but most of the day was spent in sunshine.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

An essay contest is being held in conjunction with "Be Kind to Animals Week" which ends Saturday, deadline for submission of articles of not more than 500 words on the subject, "Duty Towards Animals."

The competition, which has a $25 prize, is sponsored by the SPCA, 111 Wilson. Articles should be sent there.

Also, in connection with the week, the society is undertaking a drive for increased membership.

Membership now stands at about 500.

Last remaining poles, cross-arms and lines along the route of the first long-distance circuits from Victoria to Bellingham and Seattle are being removed by the British Columbia Telephone Company.

Built in 1904, the route was abandoned for long distance use in 1953, when a radioteletype system to Port Angeles went into operation. Some of the poles and lines which are now being removed were retained for local use, including broadcast lines to the transmitters of local radio stations.

New facilities have made the poles and lines obsolete.

First in a series of programs for French Film Week at the Art Gallery this evening will feature life in Quebec city and rural Quebec.

Also, on tonight's program, which starts at 8, and is open to the public, is a new French government film, "Le grande oeuvre." All the films are in color.

Special-guests at the showing will be student-teachers of French currently finishing their two-week practicum in the Victoria area.

The May meeting of the volunteer corps of the Silver Threads Service has been cancelled. The group's next meeting will be in June.

Mariners are advised to watch out for diving operations being conducted this week in the approaches to Esquimalt harbor.

Berlin Threat
To Grow

(Times News Services) OSLO, Norway — Dirk U. Stikker, new secretary-general of NATO, warned the 15-nation Western alliance today that the Communist threat to Berlin may assume "new proportions and a new immediacy" this year.

Addressing the opening session of a three-day meeting of NATO foreign ministers, Stikker declared the Soviet threat "even reaches into outer space."

"What it may at times have lost in brutality, it has gained in subtlety and resourcefulness," he said.

U.S. STANDS FIRM

The threat was not solely military. It was just as much political, economic, scientific, psychological and propagandist.

He warned of a possible new threat to Berlin this year and said NATO was "deeply concerned at the situation in the Congo, Laos and Cuba."

Stikker said NATO could meet the Communist challenge if its members made "those sacrifices, individual and collective, which in the past have been the price of greatness and which today are the price of peace."

NOT ONLY MILITARY

"I am happy to say that our most powerful ally, the United States, under the vigorous leadership of President Kennedy," he said.

TROOPS ASKED TO MEET
TERROR IN DOUK AREATories to Buy
Saanich Vote?Budget 'Goodies' To Be Dangled
Says Woman Liberal CampaignerBy FRANK RUTTER
(See also pages 3, 30.)

The Conservative government was accused today of planning to "buy" the voters of Esquimalt-Saanich through announcements by visiting cabinet ministers and through "goodies" in the federal budget expected shortly before the byelection.

Liberal MP Judy La Marsh of Niagara Falls said here the federal budget is expected only a few days before the vote.

"When you realize the timing, they can throw almost anything in," she said.

"I have no doubt one of the cabinet ministers coming out here in the next week or so is going to attempt to buy this riding."

Miss La Marsh arrived today with Senator John Connolly, president of the National Liberal Federation.

SPEAKS TONIGHT

She speaks tonight for Liberal candidate David Groos at 8 in St. Andrew's Church Hall, Sidney.

This week the campaign has suddenly swung into high speed after the New Party rally of Saskatchewan Premier Tommy Douglas.

That the byelection here May 29 is regarded as a national issue is borne out by the "guest list" lined-up for the next three weeks.

National Liberal leader Lester B. Pearson and top Liberals such as Paul Hellyer and Paul Martin are coming to speak for Mr. Groos.

Trade Minister George Hees, Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton and Veterans Affairs Minister Gordon Churchill are coming for the Tories. The word is that Mr. Churchill has "three announcements" of local importance to make, when he speaks on behalf of George Chatterton.

Sen. Connolly said the overriding issue of this byelection, and the three others on the same date in Eastern Canada is the Tory government's record.

"It's as key a byelection as a byelection can be," he said.

For the Liberals it offers an opportunity to win its first seat west of the Great Lakes. "I'd like to get at the government's soft under-belly from the west," he said.

Failure to act on unemployment, on easing international trade, and to avoid huge budget deficits at home were major issues, said the senator.

Said Miss La Marsh of the Conservatives: "They seem to have the feeling all you have to do is be elected and sit back for four years."

INEPTITUDE

Of Prime Minister Diefenbaker: "There has never been such a skyrocket in history." Yet in office, he and the Tories have shown "complete ineptitude."

She said people must be getting fed up with such perennial government promises as a new Pat Bay airport.

"I think Canadians get sick at the stomach at this sort of thing," she said.

'Mets' New Team

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York baseball team in the National League was nicknamed the 'Mets' today. The team does not start play until next season. It revives a name used by a New York team in the American Association, then a major circuit, in 1883 to 1888.

1959. Isachsen had one reason for existence; it was a Joint Arctic Weather Station (JAWS), one of five such stations established in the high Arctic by Canada and the United States to study the upper air and to provide weather data for forecasters far to the south.

Its 4,800-foot-long airstrip was built by U.S. Army engineers. Canada and the U.S. split at cost and the personnel, but the ninth man, the officer in charge, is always a Canadian.

The sun sets over Isachsen, on the average, Oct. 23 and isn't seen again until Feb. 15. There's a month of deep twilight after Oct. 23, and the darkness eases a bit in January. And by June each year, Isachsen is starting to warm up a bit, heading for peak temperatures of about 55 above in July.

This March, Isachsen had four days in a row where the mercury never topped 40 below and the wind speed never dropped below 40 m.p.h. There are no wind chill figures available to interpret that rate of cooling.

The ice of Prince Gustav Adolf Sea, to the south and west, does break up. But because of the winds which lash Isachsen summer and winter, driving the ice before them, supply ships can't get into Hole-in-the-Fog Bay. Everything must come by air from

MEDAL FOR A HERO

While his wife looked on proudly, astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. today was presented with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration medal by President Kennedy who earlier had dropped the medal.

U.S. 'Space Rider'
Decorated, Tells Story

(Times News Services)

WASHINGTON — America's first space traveller received a medal and the country's thanks from President Kennedy today.

Kennedy honored 37-year-old navy commander Alan Shepard in a White House ceremony.

The president remarked that with everybody looking on, America was risking much to gain from last Friday's space shot.

Shepard, his wife and the six men he beat out for the honor of being the first American in space, flew to the White House by helicopter from an air force base in Maryland.

The astronauts came from Grand Bahama Island where Shepard had been under observation after his history-making feat.

Later, at a televised press conference, Shepard said his flight will encourage him and his associates to press on with the program of exploration.

"All in all, we were very much pleased with the flight, very much encouraged, and we intend to press ahead with the program."

He said the possibility of speeding up Friday's flight from Cape Canaveral "because of other events"—possibly a reference to the Soviet man in space accomplishment—was considered but not all the speed-up was adopted.

He said he had been pretty well briefed about what to expect in space but when he actually looked through the periscope, "I have to admit it took my breath away. It was a beautiful sight."

Shepard said the flight built up to 11 Gs—eleven times the force of gravity—before the pressure eased off on the downward trip.

He was asked whether he experienced exhilaration or apprehension at any point.

"Well, I must say there was some apprehension, yes. All the flyers went into this with our eyes open. But all realized that something could go wrong."

"The exhilaration I felt was when we landed."

Asked how much of the earth's surface he had seen, Shepard said part of his view was obscured by clouds coming from the northwest. He said the distance of vision, using the periscope and measuring from the capsule to the horizon, was 800 miles.

Questioned as to whether the experience affected his vision or caused other physical malfunctions, Shepard said that even in tests in which astronauts had been subjected to far greater gravity stress than in actual flight, there had been no bad effects.

"Our flight was well below those maximums."

Shepard was asked to comment on the differences between his flight and that of Soviet astronaut Yuri Gagarin, who orbited the earth.

He said he would rather not comment because the astronauts were so involved in their own flight that they didn't have time to study the data on Gagarin's flight, except what was available in the newspapers.

Replying to another question about the Soviet orbital flight, Shepard said all the astronauts were disappointed when Gagarin was the first man to go into space.

Did the publicity on the project cause any extra burdens?

"Yes, I think it did but we all think it was worth it."

Other questions and answers:

Q—Did you encounter anything different from what you were led to expect during training?

A—It was very, very close to what was predicted. I wasn't uncomfortable or embarrassed in any way.

Q—How did you feel during the flight?

Bonner Scores
Mayor's Request

(See story page 15)

VANCOUVER (CP) — Attorney-General Bonner said today no troops will be sent to the British Columbia Kootenay district as requested by Mayor Tom Shorthouse of Nelson.

In a telephone interview Mr. Bonner said this is not a time for the Nelson mayor to be making public statements in connection with a number of terrorists bombings incidents in the Kootenays.

Mayor Shorthouse had called on Ottawa to send troops into the area. He said there have been hundreds of bombings in past years and the provincial government has been unable to stop them.

Mr. Bonner said troops would be called in only if civic agencies in the region break down. Police in the area had not requested assistance and until they do he could not consider the request by Mayor Shorthouse.

Mr. Bonner said Mayor Shorthouse would be well advised to restrain his public statements at this time. He said success or failure with the problem will not be measured in public statements.

ANOTHER BOMBING

In Trail, meanwhile, a fourth bombing was reported today as RCMP reinforcements were rushed into the area following a weekend of similar incidents.

Police say they believe the bombings were reprisals over sentencing of three members of the radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect for burning down a Grand Forks home they occupied.

The latest detonation, heard Friday night, but not found until today, was believed to have damaged CPR track at a siding 30 miles north of Nelson.

A bomb in the Grand Forks CPR marshalling yards Sunday ripped up sections of rail and damaged cross ties. Traffic was unaffected, the railroad said.

Spy Appeals Rejected

LONDON (UPI) — The appeal court today rejected pleas for lighter sentences from the five members of a Soviet spy ring that stole vital British naval secrets.

Declared "official winners" were Lou Lalande and John Jones, both of Toronto, who drove the 4,100 miles from Montreal to Vancouver in a privately-entered Studebaker Lark.

Amended results in the first four places of Canada's first cross-country car rally were announced here today after 24 hours of strenuous re-checking.

NEW CONGO CRISIS FEARED

Treason Charge For Tshombe

United Press International COQUILHATVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — The Central Congolese government's move to charge Katanga President Moise Tshombe with high treason threatened today to touch off a wave of bloodletting and sabotage in the Southeast Congo.

Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko announced Sunday that Tshombe, a prisoner here for two weeks, would be tried on such charges as the assassination of former Premier Patrice Lumumba, counterfeiting, rebellion and theft of central government money and arms.

The move was expected to have an electric effect in Katanga where tension already was high between United Nations forces and Tshombe's 5,000-man army led by white officers.

Saturday in Elisabethville that "vain sacrifices and useless massacres" would follow any interference in Katangese affairs.

Informed sources said the Katanga government was considering destruction of vital dams, communications centres and other strategic points if there were further attempts by the central government of President Joseph Kasavubu to bring Katanga under the Leopoldville regime.

Despite this, Malayan UN troops were reported threatening to arrest 100 British and South African mercenaries at the North Katanga railway junction unless they voluntarily left the Congo.

A UN security council resolution of Feb. 21 demanded that foreigners leave Congolese civil and military service. Tshombe's government not only has refused to expel them but has forced many to remain who tried to leave.

Tshombe's right-hand man, Katanga Interior Minister Godfroid Munungo, declared only

United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld has sent a note to Congo President Joseph Kasavubu requesting that Congolese soldiers responsible for killing UN troops at Port Francqui be brought to trial.

THE POLAR CONTINENTAL SHELF PROJECT

Sun Sets Oct. 23, Rises Feb. 15

BY ERIK WATT
(Special to The Times)

ISACHSEN, N.W.T. — The Arctic community of Isachsen (permanent population, nine men and one dog) sits on the west coast of Ellef Ringnes Island, 850 miles south of the North Pole, on a cove unofficially designated as Hole-in-the-Fog Bay.

It bears the name of Gunnar Isachsen, geographer with the Sverdrup Expedition of 1899-1904, who discovered and explored the island. And until 1959, Isachsen had one reason for existence; it was a Joint Arctic Weather Station (JAWS), one of five such stations established in the high Arctic by Canada and the United States to study the upper air and to provide weather data for forecasters far to the south.

Its 4,800-foot-long airstrip was built by U.S. Army engineers. Canada and the U.S. split at cost and the personnel, but the ninth man, the officer in charge, is always a Canadian.

The sun sets over Isachsen, on the average, Oct. 23 and isn't seen again until Feb. 15. There's a month of deep twilight after Oct. 23, and the darkness eases a bit in January. And by June each year, Isachsen is starting to warm up a bit, heading for peak temperatures of about 55 above in July.

This March, Isachsen had four days in a row where the mercury never topped 40 below and the wind speed never dropped below 40 m.p.h. There are no wind chill figures available to interpret that rate of cooling.

The ice of Prince Gustav Adolf Sea, to the south and west, does break up. But because of the winds which lash Isachsen summer and winter, driving the ice before them, supply ships can't get into Hole-in-the-Fog Bay. Everything must come by air from

GANGES—A 120-pound, three-year-old male cougar believed to be responsible for killing sheep on Salt Spring Island in the past month was shot Sunday on Prevost Island.

It was reported to government predator hunters James Dewar of Nanaimo and Skate-Hames of Courtenay, who have been tracking the animal with dogs for the last two or three weeks.

One-half mile of water in Captain Passage separates Prevost Island from Nose Point on Salt Spring Island.

CAPETOWN (Reuters)—A South African court sentenced a 21-year-old white man to four years imprisonment here for hitting and kicking a colored man to death, it was reported Saturday.

nedy, has again and again affirmed its determination to give reinvigorated leadership to our alliance," he said.

The chairman of the opening session, Portuguese Foreign Minister Dr. Alberto Franco Nogueira, also stressed the need for Western vigilance against Russia.

State Secretary Dean Rusk of the United States was set to ask members to bolster the alliance through increased co-operation and more non-nuclear forces.

Stikker said Sunday night: "If more mobile and effective conventional forces are at the disposal of NATO, there will be less likelihood that nuclear weapons ever will have to be used."

The agreed target for NATO is 30 combat-ready divisions deployed on the mainland of Europe. This has never been attained.

The alliance now is credited with having 26 divisions. But that figure has probably been reduced by transfer of French units to Algeria and Portuguese troops to rebellious Angola.

As the delegates to the conference assembled, Rusk and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville met at dinner with British Foreign Secretary Lord Home to coordinate policies they will pursue at the 14-nation conference on Laos scheduled to open in Geneva Friday.

The three ministers and External Affairs Minister Green of Canada will go from the Oslo meeting to Geneva.

State Secretary Dean Rusk of the United States promised his country would insist on maintaining the present legal status of Berlin and would guarantee the West's access and position there.

He declared that if Russia signed a separate peace treaty with East Germany, as it has threatened several times, it would constitute a violation of existing agreements.

The secretary of state said he had little hope of any agreement being reached at the three-power conference in Geneva on banning nuclear tests because of Soviet obstruction and new demands. However, the United States would continue its efforts to reach agreement.

Rusk also asked the NATO members to bolster the alliance through increased co-operation and beefed-up non-nuclear forces.

Several hours before the NATO ministers convened, a group of Norwegians, Danish, West German and British opponents of nuclear weapons began a round-the-clock demonstration outside police headquarters, well out of sight of the NATO meeting place.

The marchers carried placards reading "NATO must not become a nuclear power" and "No further spreading of nuclear weapons."

Shawnigan Boy Wins K of P Speaking Contest

Julian Greenwood of Shawnigan Lake School for Boys, on Friday night won the lower Vancouver Island public speaking contest sponsored by the Knights of Pythias.

Contest was held in the Sidney K of P Hall, with members of the lodge there in charge. Runners-up were Dean Smith of Victoria High School and Rhys Phillips of Mount Newton High School.

The winner will compete in the all-B.C. contest in Duncan May 18. If he is successful there he will go to regional finals in Portland, Ore. Last step will be the North American finals at Miami, Fla.

He Cut Out His Own Appendix

MOSCOW (AP)—A young Soviet physician, marooned by a blizzard at the Novo-Lazarev research station in the Antarctic, removed his own appendix in surgery lasting almost two hours, Tass said today.

He was reported recovering and able to walk again.

The Soviet news agency said Dr. Leonid Rogozov, 26, was struck by acute appendicitis April 30 and realized an operation was urgent. Using a mirror, he cut into his own abdomen that night, Tass said.

The dispatch made no mention of anaesthesia and said Rogozov performed the operation "in spite of severe pain," with the help of a mechanic and a meteorologist.

The 12-man station is located on the Queen Astrid coast, several hundred miles from the main Soviet Antarctic base at Mirny. The weather prevented any attempt at flying Rogozov to Mirny.

The alliance now is credited with having 26 divisions. But that figure has probably been reduced by transfer of French units to Algeria and Portuguese troops to rebellious Angola.

'NEXT MOVE UP TO HEALTH OFFICER'

One Sewer Bylaw Passes But Second Badly Beaten

NORTH COWICHAN—One sewer bylaw was passed and another defeated in voting in this municipality Saturday.

The Alexander Townsite bylaw for $131,000 passed by a comfortable margin of 62-36, with two rejected ballots, while the Mary Street bylaw for $127,000 was soundly defeated 106-45.

SCHOOL HOOKUP

Reeve Donald C. Morton said Saturday night he was thankful that the Townsite bylaw had passed, in that the new junior high school being built in that area will be connected to the system.

He said, however, that there is little likelihood of the Mary Street bylaw being put a second time because of the defeat.

UP TO MHO

"The vote was so decisively against the plan that I feel the medical health officer will have to make the next move," the reeve said.

He regretted that such an active campaign against the bylaw had been carried out by "a few uninformed residents," but that the council could do no more.

There had been considerable protest against both sewer plants were scheduled for installation, and both had been approved by the federal fisheries department in regard to effect of the systems on the streams, and ultimately on lower Cowichan River.
